LONGHORNS HERE MONDAY NIGHT STUDENT PRINCE ELECTION TODAY

Returns Will Be Announced By Bulletin

Chapel period will see and hear the pleas and promises of the candidates and campaign managers of the potential Student Prince. This contest, being conducted by the Skiff in conjunction with the Worth theatre, is an effort to select a real "prince" from among the boys of T. C. U. Nominations for this honor were received last Friday, and those now in the race are: George Stowe, Billy Ashburn, Commodore Perry, Rags Matthews, Ranie Elliott, Slim Steadman and Weir MacDiarmid. Everett Shipp has requested that his name be withdrawn.

Returns from the election today will be posted on the bulletin board as soon as the count is finished. The elected prince will, upon notification of his election, select a party to 24 retainers, 12 couples, to accompany him on a theatre party given by the Worth. The picture at the Worth next week is the famed "Student Prince."

As the nominations are of candidates both popular and representative, a close race is expected. Voting will be by written ballot, and the vote must be signed. Unless the vote has the signature of a T. C. U. student, it will not be counted.

Those not present at chapel when the votes are cast, may cast their ballots by coming to the Skiff office before noon today.

Twenty Report To Track Team, Toler Is Lost

Twenty candidates for the 1928 Horned Frog track team reported Wednesday afternoon to Coach Matty Bell. Practice will begin immediately, equipment having been issued to the entire squad.

The track men will work out daily at 4 p. m. "Concho" Cunningham, former Frog track and field star and co-captain of the team last year, will serve as Bell's assistant and will be manager of the team.

Cunningham will probably have charge of the squad most of the time until after the Frog basketball team finishes its Southwest Conference schedule. As usual, Coach Bell is up against a tough proposition in developing a team, as track talent has always been rather scarce at T. C. U.

The situation was made all the more gloomy when Merlin Toler, Sweetwater flash, dropped out of school for a term. Toler served his first year as a member of the Frog varsity track team last year and showed promise of developing into the greatest all-round track and field man to perform under T. C. U. colors.

The 1928 team is lead by Kenneth McCorkle, Strawn, the fleet youngster who received national attention last year when he unofficially tied the world's record in the century dash. He placed in every meet the Frogs participated in and carried off first honors in the dashes in several of them. "Bud" Norman, Fred Braisted, and Charlie Hilburn are the other last year men back. Cecil "Buzzy" Morgan, San Angelo, who lettered in 1927, also will be back this year.

Sixteen Co-eds Nominated For Beauty Pages

Sixteen fair co-eds of T. C. U. were chosen by the respective classes to represent them in the "representative" section of the Horned Frog last Friday. Each class elected four beauties whose pictures will be forwarded to Bert Lytell, famous movie star, who will select two from each class to be placed in the annual.

Vote was taken by written ballot, and returns declare that the following were nominated for the honor:

- Senior class:
Ruby Scott
Frances Brady
Mulkey Rhinehart
Margaret Cameron.
- Junior class:
Helen Boren
Elsa Fae Carson
Elizabeth Nabers
Charlotte House.
- Sophomore class:
Mae Morgan
Mae Nell Elliott
Nora Bryant
Virginia Douglas.
- Freshman class:
Eunice Sharp
Helen Jenkins
Mary Adams
Pauline Richardson.

These girls may have their pictures made this week, according to Everett Shipp, editor of the Frog.

Dean Hall Talks To P.T.A. Meeting On School Credit

Colby D. Hall, dean of Texas Christian University, addressed the members of the T. C. U. Parent-Teacher Association at their regular meeting Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the club room on the third floor of Brite College. He spoke on high school credits, university credits and the method of figuring points for graduation as used in T. C. U.

Part of this meeting was devoted to a discussion of the plans for the association's annual banquet, Feb. 21.

Mrs. Charles Nash, first vice president, presided at the meeting, due to resignation of the president, Mrs. Bob Baker.

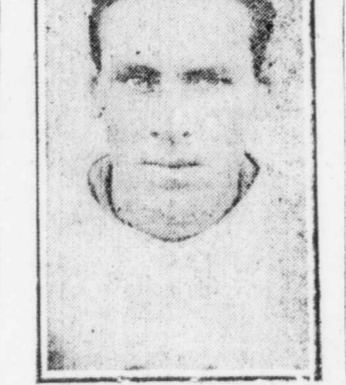

The T. C. U. Parent-Teacher Association is now three years old and has about 40 members. It has the distinction of being one of the 10 university P. T. A.'s in the United States.

Dean Williams, of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, will speak at Texas Christian University some time during the latter part of April, according to announcement by Prof. J. Willard Ridings, head of the department of journalism at T. C. U.

Dean Williams will be in Texas at that time to address a meeting of the Panhandle Press Association in Childress. He is being brought to T. C. U. by the Press Club of the school.

Prof. Ridings was formerly a member of the faculty of the Missouri School of Journalism, under Dean Williams, and is also a graduate of that school.

Captain

Jimmy Grant, baseball captain, is playing his last year for the Purple. Jimmy is one of the best outfielders in the Conference, and will make the other boys hustle for Conference honors this year.

Debating Teams Meet Simmons, Baylor Friday

The T. C. U. men's debating team, made up of Hugh Buck and Sterling Brown, will debate Simmons University here Friday night.

While the T. C. U. boys are debating here Fred Erisman and Lester Boone will be debating Baylor University at Baylor. Mr. W. H. Hodson and Philip Teeling will represent the Baylor school.

The result of last year's debates gave T. C. U. the Simmons decision with a tie at Baylor.

These debates are the first of the triangular debates arranged by Lester Boone in cooperation with the other schools of the Southwest.

T. C. U. men met defeat at Denton Friday night.

Will Durant Will Lecture Tonight On "Our Morals"

Will Durant, famous philosopher, will speak tonight at the chapel of T. C. U. on "Our Changing Morals." This will be Mr. Durant's second visit to T. C. U., having spoken here last year on the "Ten Greatest Philosophers."

Mr. Durant first attracted attention while teaching philosophy in Columbia University. His book "The Story of Philosophy" was one of the best read books on that subject ever written. He has been touring the country the past few years lecturing.

His latest book "Transition" is also widely read, and Mr. Durant is steadily growing in fame and popularity. Several departments are requiring their students to hear the lecture tonight, and advice upon such a pertinent question by Mr. Durant should attract a large audience.

This will be the fourth lecture on the course this year. Three more lectures are scheduled for the year, with Norman Angel speaking here next Monday night. Mr. Angel is an economist.

Brite Will Have 'Worship' Meet In Chapel Today

Dr. W. S. Lockhart, director of the Church Life Foundation, a movement for the spiritual enrichment and efficiency of the local church, with headquarters at Indianapolis, Ind. will hold an institute on "Worship" in the chapel of Brite College of the Bible, T. C. U., Wednesday.

Dr. Lockhart will be assisted by Wallace Tuttle, music editor of the Christian Board of Publications, St. Louis, a nationally known leader of church music. The meeting at Brite College is one of a series which these two men are holding throughout Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

THE one point jinx that had hovered over the T. C. U. basketballers in previous games this year again spelled defeat at the hands of the Rice Owls Monday night at Houston. The score was 21-20.

With only a few seconds to play Buddy Kendrick, Rice guard, broke through the T. C. U. defense to snatch a fast pass and loop the winning points.

Just a few seconds later Matthews let the ball go from mid-court only to fall on the hoop and drop in McDonald's hands. Mac shot, but his luck was jinxed and the ball was shot into play.

THE gun shot as the Frogs were attempting to get the ball through the Blue and Gray defense. Chief cause of the loss of the game was the trouble the Bellmen had in making their shots count. Fifty-seven attempts were made at the hoop, but only eight found their way through the meshes.

WITH A and M. disposed of completely and Rice temporarily, the Horned Frogs settled down Tuesday afternoon in order to develop an offense that would beat the University of Texas Longhorns, who play here Monday night. They were also spending a great deal of time in formulating a defense that will check such highly touted basketballers as "Big 'Un" Rose, who scored 19 points against Baylor last Saturday and Brock, a hot shot forward.

Texas has been going like a house afire lately and it will take some real basketball on the part of the Frogs to come out on top. The Texans always run into stiff opposition when they come to T. C. U. and they will be out to avenge the defeat handed them by the Frogs here last year as well as the one lost to the Purple in Austin.

Dean Answers
Questions As To Bible Work

"The Bible is taught in Texas Christian University because it occupies such a large place in the civilization and literature of our Anglo Saxon life that a student can not be well acquainted with our social order without knowing the Bible."

This is the statement of Dean Colby D. Hall of T. C. U., in response to the question as to why nine credit hours in the study of the Bible are required for graduation from that institution.

This was his view from an educational viewpoint. From the moral viewpoint he said:

"Whatever anyone may believe about it, the Bible is the best source of high ethical standards of right. It is recognized thus by practically all thinkers. It is the business of the college to pass that heritage on—the original source of the standards for determining right and wrong."

"The Bible is often mutilated in the movies, newspapers, magazines, and sometimes in the church. So the college student ought to know it so he can tell it is being mutilated, Dean Hall continued.

"The Bible can not be taught in the public schools because the people fear that teachers may give it a wrong denominational slant. But it can be taught in college because the students are older and can form their own opinions."

FIRST WEEK OF BASEBALL WORK GIVES PROMISE

Coach Dutch Meyer is working slowly but diligently in training his baseballers for the 1928 campaign. A week has been spent in nothing but warming up and a little hitting practice. The pitchers have not been allowed to put anything on their deliveries as yet.

Dutch is taking care that none of his athletes develop sore muscles or sore arms. This form of training will continue for two or three weeks longer.

Some 18 or 20 men are reporting to the mentor each afternoon and are doing their best to convince the coach that they are the man for the plop. Some of the boys are showing mid-season form by their gracefulness in catching ground and fly balls.

Only five letter men will be present when the players get down to earnest practice. Grant, cf; Steadman, lf; Acker, rf; J. Williams, p; and B. Williams, ss. Steadman and Acker, members of the varsity baseball team, will be out when the basketball season is over. Rags Matthews, Horace Wallin, Duane Smith, Eury and Tomlinson are expected to report too, when the season closes.

Poss Moore and Nasty Clark are out for the receiving job; Horace Wallin and Albert Acker will vie for first base; Hunter Vaughn and Noisy Dorsey are out for second; Howard Lee and Gene Turner will fight it out at short until Blackie Williams comes out. He has been suffering from a severe cold and hay fever, and has recently undergone an operation on his nose in an effort to relieve the situation. Howard Grubbs, R. L. Pettit and Blubber Lovvorn are all attempting to hold down the hot corner; Carroll and Smith are at present working out at first base. As to outfielders Dutch is well supplied, he has three letter men back for the field positions, Captain Grant at center; Slim Steadman at left and Albert Acker in right and Terry. It is thought, however, that Acker will be moved up to help Horace Wallin out at first, in a case of that kind. Coach Meyer will have to groom someone else for the right garden position. As to pitchers, this is Dutch's greatest problem, Jake Williams, a lettered pitcher of last year at this position is virtually the only proven pitcher on the squad. However, there are three sophomores that looked like varsity material while performing on the fish squad last year, Buster Walker, Leo Buckley and Roy Eury.

Coach Meyer will begin about Mar. 1 in securing practice games in which he will give each man an opportunity to show what he can do.

sent T. C. U. in Denton Friday night. The decision was won by the teachers. Women of the First Christian church of Denton entertained the entire T. C. U. crowd with a chicken dinner after the performances.

Others from T. C. U. who accompanied the party were Dr. Lew D. Falls of the public speaking department, and Sterling Brown, Lester Boone, Bush Jones, Hugh Buck and Lloyd Armstrong.

T. C. U. Groups Well Received In Denton On Friday

The cast of the play, "The Rock," a T. C. U. debating team and the Horned Frog quartette represented T. C. U. Friday night with three separate performances in Denton.

The party of T. C. U. students, chaperoned by Mrs. Beulah Boggess, new matron in Jarvis Hall, chartered a bus for the trip overland.

"The Rock" was given at the Lee School auditorium under the auspices of the First Christian church of Denton and was well received by the audience. Katherine Garrett had charge of the music between acts. Edith Armstrong, Bernice Acker and Dorothy Chancey gave a violin trio, and Edith Kelsey sang several numbers accompanied by Carolyn Durham.

The cast of "The Rock" included Sara Beth Boggess, Rothe Hilger, Maurine Sutherland, Barbara Tom Truscott, Harvey Redford, Maurice Gilmore, Charles Hannah, Louis Copeland and Lyle Hamner.

Estes Putting On Intramural Work In Handy Fashion

Inter-mural basketball is well under way on the T. C. U. campus and were it not for the diligent efforts of Mr. Graham Estes these class games would not be on the high plain that they are. Mr. Estes is due a great deal of credit for the interest that he has shown in making inter-mural basketball a possibility.

Mr. Estes had a great deal of experience in inter-mural athletics while attending the University of Illinois, and upon returning to T. C. U. he saw and felt the need of such sport. As a result 11 teams are represented in the league and much interest is being shown by the classes. The freshmen have two teams representing them in the field, the sophomores three; the juniors two; the seniors three and the faculty one.

A great deal of time is devoted to this work by Mr. Estes, each week he spends from 10 to 15 hours in directing the games. He is acting unofficially, only because he loves athletics and is willing to serve in that capacity.

BAND NOTICE

THE TEXAS Christian University Band will give a concert next Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. If the weather permits it will be given on the campus, but otherwise it will have to be given in the auditorium.

The band has been having extra rehearsals on Saturday and Sunday in preparation for its engagement at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, March 10-17, and has many new classical, light opera and popular numbers in its repertoire.

Next Friday the band will furnish the fine arts program in chapel.

Dean Williams, Noted Speaker, Here In April

Dean Williams, of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, will speak at Texas Christian University some time during the latter part of April, according to announcement by Prof. J. Willard Ridings, head of the department of journalism at T. C. U.

Dean Williams will be in Texas at that time to address a meeting of the Panhandle Press Association in Childress. He is being brought to T. C. U. by the Press Club of the school.

Prof. Ridings was formerly a member of the faculty of the Missouri School of Journalism, under Dean Williams, and is also a graduate of that school.

Others from T. C. U. who accompanied the party were Dr. Lew D. Falls of the public speaking department, and Sterling Brown, Lester Boone, Bush Jones, Hugh Buck and Lloyd Armstrong.

Girl's Athletics Compare Well With Southern Colleges

Athletic activities for girls at Texas Christian University are on a par with most any university in the South. Five years ago there was little, if any interest taken in physical development of the co-eds.

Much of the credit for the present high standing of women's athletics at T. C. U. should go to Mrs. Helen Murphy, director of that work for the university for the past three years. Mrs. Murphy is one of the most capable leaders of young women in the South.

In her comparatively short period of service with T. C. U. Mrs. Murphy has developed a program of all-around sports for the Frogettes as the girls' pep squad and general athletic body is called. She also has perfected the organization of the Women's Athletic Association, the membership of which is composed of girls who have won letters in various sports.

Mrs. Murphy's program for the T. C. U. girls includes, basketball, baseball, volley ball, track, hiking, fencing, horsemanship, swimming, pageantry, folk dancing and many other activities. One of her outstanding accomplishments has been the enlargement and training of the girls' pep squad, which has about 50 members.

Robert Gray New Head of Science Society Here

George Robert Gray, Fort Worth, is the newly elected president of the Science Society of Texas Christian University. Other new officers, elected for the spring term, are Miss Jewell Harkins, Vernon, vice-president, and John Smart, Wichita Falls, secretary-treasurer.

The T. C. U. Science Society has an enrollment of twenty active, and twenty-nine associate members. Students eligible to active membership must be majoring in some science, or in mathematics. A student who is taking one course in either physics, chemistry, biology, geology, or in any science is eligible to be an associate member of the society.

"The Science Society is an outgrowth of the old Pre-Medic Society of T. C. U. which was organized shortly after the war," explained Prof. W. M. Winton of the biology and geology department. "Only pre-medic students and majors in the sciences were admitted to membership in the old Pre-Medic Society. In 1924 the society was reorganized to include any student taking as much as one course in science, in order to further interest in the science courses."

The society holds its meetings every two weeks, on Tuesday night. The purpose of the meetings are to stimulate interest in the sciences by having original papers read; and to have faculty and student speakers, local physicians, etc., lecture, and give practical demonstrations of various scientific phenomena not got in class room discussions.

The biology and geology societies at T. C. U. have been direct outgrowths of the science society, and both clubs have an interested active membership.

Officers of the Science Society for the first term just ended were: Clifford Smith, Fort Worth, president; Walter Lennox, Cisco, vice-president; and Nathan Carpenter, Troy, secretary-treasurer.

Active members of the society are: Cicero Eason, Lindale; Nathan Carpenter, Troy; Brasher Stroud, Fort Worth; Clifford Smith, Fort Worth; Everette Rolls, Cherokee; Edwin Rooks, Iowa Park; George Gray, Fort Worth; Walter Lennox, Cisco; Samuel Stuart, Lancaster; Olive Chambers, Forney; Eral Jahn, Gonzales; Theo Bennett, Houston; J. W. Herndon, Jr., Sweetwater; Harold Van Haltern, Fort Worth; C. L. Morgan, San Angelo; Doris Newberry, Fort Worth; J. F. Thompson, Fort Worth; J. F. Garnett, Fort Worth; John Smart, Wichita Falls; and James E. Grant, Fort Worth.

Associate members are: Walter Francis, Dallas; J. K. Wiley, Iowa Park; Harvey Dunn, Iowa Park; Raymond Kelley, Cleburne; Ruth Mahlen, Shreveport, La.; Ruth Bernam, Loveland, Okla.; Thelma Nelson, Balinger; Virginia Saunders, McKinney; Martha Ann Houghton, McKinney; Bernice Ragland, Sweetwater; Jewell Harkins, Vernon, and Nell Russell, Ballinger.

Maxine Russell, Ballinger; Texora Pierce, Breckenridge; Sam Parker, Sweetwater; Peter Smith, Weatherford; Fannie Mae Novit, Dublin; and Doris Newberry, Fort Worth.

PRACTICAL WORK IS STRESSED IN BUSINESS DEPT.

"The business administration department of T. C. U. is a combination of the cultural and the practical," according to Prof. J. W. Ballard, head of the business administration department.

"The B.B.A. department is constantly increasing because students and parents are beginning to realize the need for practical training," Professor Ballard explains.

"The department was first installed in 1922, with the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce of Fort Worth. My first assistant was Kenneth Dammeron, who was with me for one year. Following him, for 1924 and 1925 was M. J. Scott, now with Armour & Co. Our present instructors are: Butler S. Smiser, business manager of T. C. U., A. L. Carlson, formerly of Marquette University and Oklahoma A. & M., and Ruth Williamson, a student in T. C. U."

Professor Ballard is the author of a course in accounting used by the Canadian Banking Association and an outline of a primary course used by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario. He was the first college professor in Texas to pass the Certified Public Accountant's examinations.

The department started with 26 students and it now has an enrollment of 175. At the outset five courses were offered, now there are 19.

"The first group of graduates in 1925 numbered five," says Professor Ballard. "This year we expect to graduate 18. We have several girls in our department now, but the first girl to graduate was Miss Mabel Mills, now Mrs. J. Warren Clark, in 1926."

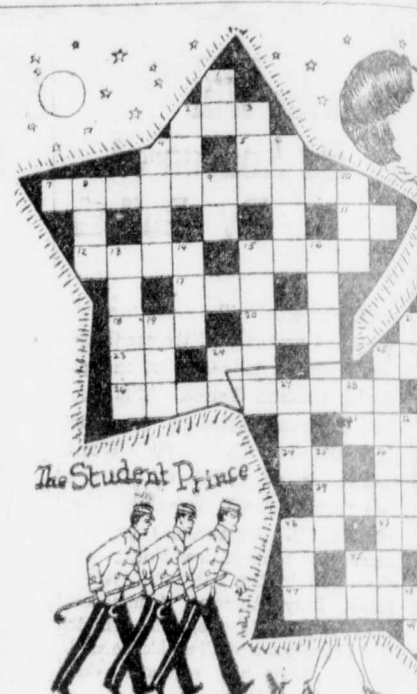

"The first graduates were R. S. Ford, Roy Scott Mark, Wilburn Page, William Shirley and Edwin A. Elliott, now a professor at T. C. U. The business administration department has a rule that every student entering a classroom chewing gum or eating must furnish the class with whatever he has.

"One of the most amusing cases of this is that of a boy who had been caught chewing gum, and on going to the store to buy gum, he also bought himself some candy. When he returned to class he was eating candy, so he had to buy candy for the class."

In connection with the B.B.A. department an employment bureau is maintained.

Rambling Thoughts

Dreams, beautiful dreams, are necessities for the real success of tomorrow. The dreamer who does more than dream, who diligently strives to make his dream a reality, is due appreciation for it is he who is leading over the pathway of success.

The dreamer, the dreamer of real success, the lover of the beautiful, has visions of perfection and continuously endeavors for the fulfillment of his ambitions and the glorification of his ideals.

The dreamer sees an ideal land, where nature and nature's God continually exist, where nothing but happiness and joyfulness is found. All through the pathway of his life he seeks that goal, he seeks to spread happiness among the sorrowful and make the world about him a little brighter. It is he who brings sunshine to the rainy day.

But a dreamer must do more than dream; he must make his dreams realities. You have often seen a mere wanderer who dreams and dreams of magnitude, but is wholly incapable of putting his dreams into actions. It is not the wanderer but the enthusiastic dreamer capable of action that is the leader among men.

Every great endeavor must first be thought upon must be dreamed about before it can be accomplished. Washington was a dreamer who made his dreams realities. This great man dreamed of a nation made up of the people whom he loved; he dreamed of a nation on this side of the Atlantic which would be a nation of democracy. He made those dreams realities by

Modern Language Department Shows Steady Increase

"An increased interest in the study of modern languages at Texas Christian University is marked by the fact that there are 12 majors in the modern language department this year as compared with only five last year," says Dr. Joseph H. Combs, head of the modern language department at T. C. U.

Meeting the demands of the increased interest in modern languages, several hundred dollars worth of many volumed dictionaries and standard works in Spanish and French have been added to the library this year.

New German and Spanish instructors will probably be included in the department next fall, and Dr. Combs expects to have at least four or five graduate students working on their master's degrees next year.

This year, for the first time, it was necessary to have two classes of third year Spanish, and another class in second year Spanish will be added to the curriculum for the spring term, to take care of additional students who are turning to modern languages, both for specialization and for elective work in regular library courses. Dr. Combs is also planning to organize French and Spanish clubs in the Spring, for conversation, and to learn songs and games characteristic of these countries.

Many new courses are being projected for next year in Spanish, French and German, according to Dr. Combs. These courses are being planned in Spanish: A whole year course in "The Survey of Spanish Literature"; a half-year course in conversation, to alternate with the advanced course in composition, already offered; two half-year courses on "The Social Background of Spanish Literature," and "Spanish classical Prose," to alternate with "Golden Age Drama," already included in the curriculum; and two courses for graduate students only on "The Cid" and "Don Quixote."

The following advanced courses in French are planned: "The Renaissance"; the "Eighteenth Century," with particular attention to Montesquieu, Voltaire, Rousseau, and the Encyclopedists; "Advanced Composition and Conversation"; "The Drama Since Romanticism"; "Background of Modern French Literature"; and "The Development of the Novel." All these courses will be followed by the regular catalogue course in which students prepare a master thesis.

"German is just getting on its feet again since the war," says Dr. Combs, "and next year will be the first time since then that T. C. U. has offered more German than just the two elementary courses." Dr. Combs gives as one reason for German coming into prominence again, the fact that students who are looking forward to the doctorate in a greater university later on, will be expected to have a reading knowledge of German and French. Three new German courses are planned for next year: "A survey of German Literature," "Age of Goethe and Schiller," and "The Poetry of Romanticism."

Big Sister Great Comfort to Lonely Coeds At School

No freshman at Texas Christian University need ever feel homesick or lonely for she has a big sister waiting for her the minute she enters a dormitory. The members of the Young Women's Christian Association have the welcoming of freshmen as a special social service work and each old member adopts a freshman as a little sister.

Besides the "little sister" work the Y. W. C. A. at T. C. U. has accomplished many things in social service efforts. A box of clothes and toys was collected and sent to the little negro orphans in Southern Christian Institute at Edwards, Miss. The girls gave willingly of their time and money that the little negroes should have a merry Christmas.

There are 35 members in the T. C. U. branch of the Y. W. C. A. The meetings are held Thursday evenings. Every other meeting is purely social while literature and current events are discussed on alternate nights.

Gladys Simons of Fort Worth is president; Sarah Beth Boggess, Houston, vice president; Mae Nell Elliott, Memphis, Texas, secretary; and Mary Magee, Pecos, treasurer.

In addition to these officers there is an official cabinet with five members. Ione Way, Canton, Ill., is undergraduate representative; Leo Hubert, Beaumont, publicity chairman; Catherine Knight, Eddy, chairman of World Fellowship and Ruth Burnham, Loveland, Okla., chairman of music.

Library Is Noted For Subscription Of Many Magazines

The Mary Coats Burnett library of Texas Christian University has probably one of the best magazine libraries in the South. Each year it receives 133 magazines for which it has subscribed and approximately 56 are donated each year by publishers and friends of the university. Arthur R. Curry, the librarian, has charge of these magazines.

In this number there is included nearly every sort of magazine. There are journals on economics, law, sociology, science, zoology, expression, home economics, political economy, religion and journals on library work and management. The American Mercury is given to the library; and about 10 religious magazines are given. Of course the library subscribes to a number of other religious ones.

Four Texas publications are given to the library: They are, the Texas Outlook and the Frontier Times, both given by the publishers and East Texas given by a friend. The Texas School Journal is also received.

Some of the other magazines are scientific, commercial, literary, historical and foreign language. There are some on art and drama. The foreign magazines are "L'Illustration" and La Prensa.

Summer Term Dates Set as June 11 to Aug. 10--9 weeks

Preliminary announcement of the 1928 summer term of Texas Christian University was made this week from the office of E. R. Tucker, registrar. The summer session will extend from June 11 to Aug. 10, nine weeks.

A feature of the T. C. U. summer term will be the joint summer school with the Curry School of Expression of Boston. A special bulletin for this school will be issued later.

Practically the entire list of studies of the regular session will be available in the School of Fine Arts during the summer term. Dr. Henry D. Guelick, head of the school and also head of the piano department; Prof. Paul Klingstedt, head of the voice department; Prof. Claude Sammis, head of the violin department and Prof. S. P. Ziegler, head of the art department, will all teach in the summer session.

Courses are definitely announced for the summer in Bible, biology, commerce, education, English, economics, government, history, mathematics, psychology, French, Spanish, philosophy and sociology.

Other courses for which students indicate a demand will be added, according to Mr. Tucker.

T. C. U.'s girls basketball team won a hard fought game from the W. C. Stripling commercial team in the T. C. U. gymnasium Thursday night, by a score of 24 to 18.

Ruth Williamson is captain of the varsity team. Others who played in the game Thursday night were Kate Phillips, Maurine Rankin, Gladys Van Horn and Bernice Schmidt; substitutes were Dorothy Denby and Avalene Lawrence.

Physics Lab. Has Photo Electric Cell Equipment

A photo electric cell, the same sort of "electric eye" that is the essential principle of television, talking motion pictures, and of the new telegraph system by which pictures are transmitted, is included in the equipment of the physics department of Texas Christian University.

Prof. Newton Gaines, head of the physics department of Texas Christian University describes the photo-electric cell as a supersensitive "electric eye" which responds to light or shade falling on it and is extremely sensitive to variations in intensity and color of light.

A photo-electric cell is the underlying principle in television and telephotography, the subject being illuminated with tiny moving spot of light which is picked up by a battery of a large photo-electric cell, and the result of this transmission of the cell is the most successful transmission of the actual view of a human face that has ever been achieved.

"The cell is also used in photography, and is so sensitive," says Gaines, "that with it the candle power of a tail of a comet could easily be measured. It is also possible to measure the intensity of illumination on a wall in Fort Worth, of a candle or light 50 miles away."

"The cell has other practical uses and possibilities," continued Gaines, "for instance, as a burglar alarm. Light from a concealed lamp in the corner of a room is reflected about the room by mirrors, making a network of beams, all of which end upon a single photo-electric cell. Should an intruder walk in front of any beam, interrupt it for a second, the slight change in the total amount of light falling on the sensitive cell would release the mechanism that would ring the alarm."

"By the same principle, it would be possible to count the number of people who looked into a store window during a given period of time."

The national clocks of France are set by the stars, without aid of any human hand, except the human hand which invented the photo-electric cell, since this device is also the underlying principle of this process, says Prof. Gaines. Instead of an astronomer who sits intently at his telescope and presses a signal button to determine the exact time, the photo-electric cell literally "hears" the light of a star and records the correct time on the marvelous standard clocks of France, which, in turn, regulate the time of other clocks all over the world.

"Two and Two Is Five" Say Frosh In Recent Test

A tense nervous silence hung over the crowded room. Ninety anxious faces were turned toward the man who stood, pencil in hand, as he said in a loud emphatic tone, "You have only 10 minutes on each of the tests that are on this booklet we have given you. What you do not know, guess at. Pencils up. Ready, go." Heads ducked and pencils scratched. The freshman intelligence test was begun.

Why do people prefer automobiles to street cars? "Because street cars are not as safe," replied one enterprising student.

"Cats are useful animals, because they are afraid of dogs," was another answer to a question.

One pupil looked hastily at the statement, "The feathers on a bird's wing help him to fly because, they make a wide, light surface, keep the air off his body, keep the wings from cooling off too fast," and quickly underlined, "because they keep the wings from cooling off too fast."

Before the now dazed eyes of the quaking freshman appeared a list which was underlined in the following ways:

1. Pinochle is played with rackets, cards, pins, dice.
2. The Wyandotte is a kind of horse, fowl, cattle, granite.
3. Salsify is a kind of snake, fish, lizard, vegetable.
4. Rosa Bonheur is a famous poet, painter, composer, sculptor.
5. Bombay is a city in China, Egypt, India, Japan.
6. Larceny is a term used in medicine, theology, law, pedagogy.
7. Mauve is the name of a drink, color, fabric, food.
8. Turpentine comes from petrolum, ore, hides, trees.
9. Cypress is a kind of machine, food, tree, fabric.

The exam was over. One girl giggled hysterically as she left the room, "Do you know that I put on that exam that a Zulu had four legs? Gee, I hope nobody judges me by that thing. I was scared stiff. There's not one way of telling what I did say."

And, sure enough, there wasn't.

George Stowe . . . A Winner A "Student Prince"

That's just what we all think of him down here. That's just why we chose him to be our official representative in the Student Body at T. C. U. George is just the kind of a "fellow" that is a "prince" regardless of where you place him.

First. He is honest, straight-forward and dependable. Second. He is gracious, kindly of heart and considerate. Third. He is "goodly" of countenance, and would wear well the robes of Student Princeliness. We feel that the Student Body of T. C. U. can do no better than to elect George Stowe as its Student Prince and herewith submit our vote for consideration with all the weight it might have. Incidentally our clothes will add "PRINCELINESS" to the Student Prince regardless of who is elected. New Spring Clothes Coming in Every Day.

GOSH!

News is sure breaking fast now. Just look; there is the Student Prince contest with Messrs. Matthews, Ashburn, Stowe, Perry, McDiarmid, Elliott, Steadman, all nominated to be most characteristic of T. C. U.'s Student Prince. This brings the boys of the school into play again, and that is getting better. We get tired of hearing from the girls all of the time.

And then right on top of that comes the nominations for most representative students. And who will be the most representative of our glorious alma mater? Why it will be the most popular of course. It always is, and why not?

The argument over the '29 is over. Guess some dumb frosh showed his color, and the juniors showed their brains by letting the thing drop.

And who knows any more about athletics than does Miss Dorothy Stowe?

Real peppy, full of life, and just as cute, is Miss Dorothy Crotty. Seezee airing over to library.

WHICH reminds me that our old friend Bill Rogers, is now M. C. down to the De Molay hall. Understand that Bill can be M. C. as well as A. 1.

With eyes, oh, oh, and hair so, well you can't just tell about it. But it is Miss Jerene Long. We are for Jerene long, and longer.

Dumber frosh things that a cowlick is the place where moo moos lick their cuds. It just his head that's all. No it ain't Hanna, either.

Been flying high again, has Miss Margaret Moore. Gee I wonder if that was one of those good looking air men that rated the honor.

John Garnett needs only a pair of wings on that All-American to be able to fly.

AND the pep squad girls get sweaters. Mrs. Murphy presented the sweaters and told the folk WHY the girls were getting them. She said one thing that proved the girls loyalty to T. C. U. The girls made the games without dates.

Saw Doug in the "Gaucho" the other night. That is some little brunnett that plays opposite him. Miss Southern, formerly of Cowtown Central High also gives Fort Worth a treat in the show.

EVER tried to do something you just knew you could and then failed. Well, if you have the right kind of an audience it sure will take some of the foolish conceit out of you. If you happened to be afflicted that way, I suggest failing as first aid.

What we want to know is, why does Leonard Shuler blush when anyone mentions "My Blue Heaven." Mr. Bentley: "Who was Luther?" Olivia Ybarra: "He's the English prof, but we call him 'Mr. Mansfield.'"

They say that there is a girl in Gibson Hall who kissed a boy for breaking her pencil point, and since then she can't keep a pencil sharpened.

Ever hear about the fellow who went into the shower room and saw Bare Wolf?

At the T. C. U.-S. M. U. basketball game, Finklestein is said to have made a "sweeping" success. Miss Shirley: Spell "nickelodeon." Elizabeth Moor: Now don't get funny, Miss Shirley.

Hair brushes, hat brushes and clothes brushes may be easily cleaned by dipping them up and down in a shallow pan of warm water to which has been added a little ammonia. Great care should be taken, however, to see that the liquid does not touch the brush block, for this may loosen the bristles. Dry in the sunshine.

"When I was a little boy," said Lester Boone, "my mother said she was going to have company and for me to be good. I told her that I would be good if she would give me a nickel. She said, 'No, I want you to be good for nothing,' and so I am."

"We need colleges of different types, to emphasize the different sides of education," Dean Hall pointed out. "Thus we have teachers' colleges, agricultural colleges, etc. So we need colleges to emphasize the moral side along with other aspects, and to encourage all colleges to provide for this side of education."

New Upprette Society One Of Busiest Here

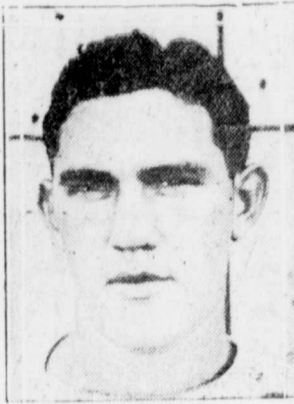

A pajama party, an afternoon tea, helping Mrs. Sadie Beckham entertain, ruling their freshman "little sisters," thus runs the life of the Upprettes in Jarvis Hall at Texas Christian University.

Organized this year for the first time, the Upprettes, a club for upper-classman girls living in Jarvis Hall, have had a busy and happy time. There is a membership of fifty or more girls. No regular dues, no formal constitution, no definite time of the meeting, are some of the unusual features of the club, yet officers are elected, money quickly raised when necessary, and the girls are always willing to help when needed.

Who did all the decorating on T. C. U.'s first homecoming day last Thanksgiving? The Upprettes. Who act as hostesses when the town girls are invited to spend one gala night in Jarvis Hall? The Upprettes. Who preside with charming dignity at teas and other functions given in the parlors of the dormitory? The Upprettes.

"It is true that this is the first year there has been an organized club for the upper-classman girls," says Mrs. Beckham, matron of the hall, "but they are beginning a custom that is certain to last. No formal program of plan has been outlined yet," she continued, "but
