A UNIQUE ADDRESS

"Mistaken Identity"

HUMOROUS • INSPIRATIONAL • INTERESTING

HE HELPS THE WORLD REMEMBER
ONE OF ITS BEST LOVED CHARACTERS

What They Say: . . .

DAYTON ROTARY CLUB:

Mr. Trimble makes a different sort of an address than other speakers. His marked resemblance to Will Rogers, the fine things he says about him, and the way he says them, will gain the good will of any group.

AKRON KIWANIS CLUB:

Best program in five years. We are looking forward to a return engagement.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE:

Andrew A. Trimble, a Cleveland, Ohio, business man, does a splendid and restrained portrayal of Will Rogers in "The Great Ziegfeld". This, and his marked resemblance to Will, brought back to everyone a fond remembrance of the beloved cowboy philosopher. This was Trimble's initial movie role.

OHIO BANKERS ASSOCIATION:

Every one of our 600 members present enjoyed your fine talk. Your opening remarks which eliminate from the listener's mind any idea that you are trying to be another Will Rogers or that you are seeking to take his place, constitutes good judgment, and is warmly received. The wonderful tribute you pay Will is one that all should hear. This, combined with your humorous experiences, which gave us plenty of laughs, is an address of which you can be truly proud, as it is all done in a spirit of respect to Will's memory.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE TELEPHONE AND TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION:

We want to thank you for your fine address at the annual banquet of our state association. Everyone enjoyed it immensely. We heartily recommend you to any group, large or small.
