cured the ball for a few downs made some spectacular plays, but she too lost on a fumble, and Baylor again having gotten possession of the ball, slowly advanced it for a touch down. This was the only touchdown made during the first half.

During the first part of the second half it looked as if T. C. U. was going to win the game, for she got the ball twice within the five yard line of the goal; but both times the ball was lost on downs. These two successful stands by Baylor virtually decided the game, for the Baylor team now rallied and slowly plodded their way through the line of their opponents for two more touch downs. The final score being 17 to 0 in favor of

THE DAY OF JUDGMENT

For a Suit of Clothes is the first day a man puts it on and meets his friends. Critical eyes will examine the cut, the fabric and the appropriateness of the suit to the man wearing it.

Our suits always pass muster—they're right, perfect in every detail, and expert judges pronounce them so. Built generously with snap and ginger. $12.50, $15.00, $22.50.

Baylor vs. T. C. U.

On last Saturday, Nov. 12th, what proved to be one of the hottest fought contests ever waged between Baylor and T. C. U., took place on the campus of the latter. The game was called at 4 p. m., and from this time until dark, about five hundred spectators watched with eagerness the rushing onslaughts made by the two teams.

The game was begun by T. C. U. kicking the ball to Baylor, who secured the ball, and on downs advanced it about twenty yards, when it was lost on a fumble. Then T. C. U. having se-

T. C. U.'s gains were more spectacular than those of Baylor, as the latter made very few gains of more than five yards. The longest run during the game was a forty yard run by Muse of T. C. U. Other long runs were made by Muse, Harbour, and Knight of the same team.

Baylor, while making no long runs, made steady gains, although barely making the five yard line on several occasions, her plays as a whole, counted for more than those of her opponent.

T. C. U.'s line up was as follows: Martin, center; L. Wright, right guard; Frizzell, left guard; Bloor, right tackle; Muse, left tackle; Grisson, right end; Ashmore, left end; Knight, quarter back; George Wright, full back; Cady, left half back; Harbour, right half back.

Bright Freshman (to the motorman): "Is this Noah's Ark full yet?"

Motorman: "Yes, all but the monkey, jump in."

The Girl Who Works.

God bless the girl who works. She is brave, true and noble. She is not too proud to earn her own living or ashamed to be caught at the task. She smiles at you from behind the desk or counter or printer's case. There is a memory of her sewed up in the silent gown. She is like a brave mountaineer already far up the precipice—climbing, struggling, rejoicing. The sight should be an inspiration to us all. It is an honor to know this girl and be worthy of her esteem. Lift your hat to her, young man, as she passes by. Her hand may be stained by dish-washing, sweeping, factory grease, or printer's ink, but it is an honest hand and a helping hand. It stays misfortune from the house; it supports an invalid loved one, and oftimes is a loving, potent shield that protects many a family from the poor house. All honor to the brave toiler. Again, God bless the girl who works.

"Children," said the teacher, while instructing the class in composition, "you should not attempt any flights of fancy, but simply be yourselves and write what is in you. Do not imitate any other person's writings or draw any inspirations from outside sources." As a result of this advise Johnny Wise turned in the following composition: "We should not attempt any flites of fancy, but rite what is in us. In me is my stummick, lungs, heart, liver, two apples, one stick of lemon candy and my dinner." Baltimore American.

Judge Parker wired Roosevelt on the day after the election, the following message: "The people by their votes have emphatically approved your administration. Congratulations.

ALTON B. PARKER.

SANGER BROS.

The address by Dr. Gamble Sunday morning was an appropriate one for the occasion. Probably young people come in contact with no other influence which has more to do with shaping their future life than the books they read. Consequently one can't be too careful about the books one reads. Abraham Lincoln's future life was changed from a common laborer to a United States' President just by reading some books on law which he found in a barrrell of rubbish. No one can read a book without being to some extent a different person, if we read a good book, our life has been made better; if we read a bad book, our life has been made worse.

The elevation of the mind ought to be the principal end of all our studies; which if they do not in some measure effect, they will prove of very little service to us. —Burke.

"I'd give the world," he sighing said, And closer drew his chair, "To know the thought that fills your head." She tossed her glowing hair.

"You would," she answered, "really now? Your offer makes me laugh, For I was thinking how I'd look In Jackson's photograph."

"You'd look, my dear," was his reply, "More charming by one-half Than blessed angels from the sky, In Jackson's photograph."

"I can't accept the words you tell, No, I'm not such a calf; Though even ugly girls look well In Jackson's photograph."

The nicest shave you ever saw is waiting for you at the St. Charles barber shop.

Dr. Gamble, editor of the Baptist Standard and delegate to the Baptist Convention here, preached a strong sermon Sunday morning in the University chapel. His subject was: "What we should read."

Hickman Baker, Jesse Hooks, and Edgar Flowers, after spending a week taking in the Fair at St. Louis, came in Sunday night.

Dr. Hough, of the Baptist Convention, gave the student body an interesting discourse Sunday night.

Among the visitors during the past week were: Mr. Lonzo Harris and wife, Mr. Charlie Ohare, Miss Ellen Widener, Miss Cora Harding, and Miss Mattie Harris, all from Prairie Hill; and who were visiting Mr. Frank and Miss Bettie Burns.

You get the girl and the money Sidney P. Smith will furnish the rig.

Mr. Wynn has been placed at the head of the laundry establishment.

Franklin Kinnard was suddenly called home Sunday night on account of the death of his mother. The Skiff extends to him and to the other members of the family its sincere condolence.

Quit spending your money foolishly. Go driving in one of Sidney P. Smith's rigs.

Go to the St. Charles barber shop for your next shave—you'll get a good one.

T. C. U's Third Team Vs. High School.

On last Monday afternoon the third eleven of T. C. U. met the eleven of Waco High School on the gridiron of T. C. U. and defeated them in a game of football by a score of 10 to 0. The game was witnessed by about two hundred people.

The features of the game were: the star tacking by Waco's left end; the quarterback runs by Perkins of T. C. U.; the line plunges by Knight of T. C. U.; and the drop kick over the goal by Cady of T. C. U.

Offerings to Porto Rico.

Thursday evening just after supper the young ladies met in the Y. W. C. A. parlor to prepare for mailing their offerings for the girls' orphanage at Bayamon, Porto Rico.

There were some beautiful specimens of ferns on exhibition which had just been received from Porto Rico. There were also samples of drawn work done by children of seven and eight years of age.

Letters from Mrs. Ford were read, in which she thanked the girls for their kindness in remembering them. The evening soon passed and each girl went away feeling how much better it is to give than to receive.

Isaac W. Brown, the Bird and Bee man of Indiana, made another nature study talk in chapel Tuesday. After a week's study of the boll weevil he is of the opinion that it is really a blessing. A full report will be made later through the press. Prof. Brown, with Capt. Davis, also delighted the North Waco public school children by a visit.

In Pres. Zollars' chapel talk Thursday morning he explained the reason for having the classes in the Biolo department come on alternate years and that in this way as thorough a biblical course is given as is found in any of our schools. He encouraged those who are anticipating the study of homiletics to make preparation by a thorough drill in rhetoric, logic and psychology.

Sketching Party.

On Monday afternoon Miss Siegel and pupils of her art class enjoyed a pleasant outing in the nature of a sketching party. The immediate environment of T. C. U. abounds in picturesque nooks and charming landscapes which always attract the artistic eye. No doubt the party returned with sketch book filled with apt reproductions of these scenes. This is art in its true sense.

Ed. S. McKinney, ex-editor of the Skiff, and a graduate of the class of last session, has been chosen by the churches of Woodward, O. K., to preach the Thanksgiving sermon next Thursday.

Mrs. Dr. M. H. Page returned this morning from a protracted visit to the North.

Prof. Keeves, superintendent of the public schools at Alvarado and a friend of the University, was here today and made a chapel talk.

V. I. Stirman of Athens paid us a short visit this week.

The following visitors have registered at the girls' home during the past week: Mrs. A. R. Hamlin, Fort Worth; Mrs. T. E. Tomlinson, Mrs. M. H. McKinney, Hillsboro; Miss Irene Peters, Valley Mills; Miss Provence, McKinney; Miss Lang, Mineral Wells; Mrs. Glass, Miss Williamson, Lott; Mrs. Oglesby, Mrs. Coffman, Melissa; Mr. and Mrs. Ball, Hereford.

The classification and filing of credits is the order of the day. Professors Marshall, Snow and Hamner are looking specially after this work.

Miss Siegel went out to McGregor last Saturday and was very enthusiastically received. She will enroll a large class of ladies and also have a class in public school work.
