JARVIS DEBATERS BEAT ROBERTS IN ACADEMY CONTEST

Pirkle and Outlaw Get Decision Over Clayton and Hunter

Paul Pirkle and Nigle Outlaw, representing the Jarvis Literary Society, won a unanimous decision over Boyd Clayton and Gerald Hunter, of the Roberts Society, in the inter-society debate last Friday night.

The victors defended the affirmative of the question: "Resolved, that the United States should increase its army and navy." Pirkle discussed the problems involved in the increase of the army and Outlaw took the proposition of the naval increase. In developing his argument Outlaw used a map or chart to illustrate his points.

Clayton and Hunter put up some good argument on the negative but had the weak side of the question.

This debate was the first inter-society contest held by the Academy societies. The affair will be made an annual event. The Jarvis and Roberts societies are showing much interest in forensic happenings this year and will add some good material to the college societies.

The judges for the contest Friday were Dr. W. H. Batson, E. R. Bentley and B. A. Hayes.

GERMANIA GESELLSCHAFT HAS REAL DUTCH TREAT

Mrs. Sargent's Students Close Year with Picnic

On last Friday, May 21, in spite of the "Donnerwetter" and rain clouds, the German Society celebrated the completion of another successful year's work by a picnic in Forest Park. With an accuracy and a business-like way, characteristic of the people for whom they are named "Die Deutsche Gesellschaft" made it a "dutch treat" by buying the eats with the balance left in the treasury, which by the way was a very neat little sum. The menu consisted of Sandwiches; peanut butter, piemento, fried ham, boiled ham, nut and cheese. To finish up on there were vanilla wafers, lemonade and several kinds of fruit.

Instead of carrying a "schwarz, weisz, rot" banner, the society established its identity to the casual observer in a very different way. Several members of the faculty were heard to utter indignant exclamations when two girls of the society were seen proceeding the company with a large pail labeled "Beer" in box-car letters. However, Mrs. Sargeant wishes to assure all her fellow faculty members that the bucket contained nothing but red lemonade and ice.

MISS MASON AND MISS EDWARDS' WIN ART PRIZES

At the annual art exhibit shown in the Carnegie Library building, Flora Mai Mason won two first prizes and one second prize, and Ethel Edwards won one second prize.

Miss Mason's work is the new enameled china and Miss Edwards' is the painted china.

Bob Lines, who succeeded Abe Green as president of the freshman class here last year was out visiting on the campus this week.

Students Score Howling Success in Burlesque Faculty Take-off

Thursday night, May 20, in the university chapel, the T. C. U. students conducted the annual "faculty take-off." Piloted by Potts Reeder, posing as President Kershner, the remainder of the faculty being represented by divers other celebrities, the mimic constabulary of wisdom played to a chapel packed with students whose enthusiasm was only bounded by past indignities and continued suffering, which was unbounded. At fifteen cents per head, the Horned Frog management, in whose behalf the cataclysm was conducted realized $35; and the whole drama was pronounced by everybody present, including some members of the faculty, a tremendous victory.

The expectant multitude having assembled, more eager than ever for the beginning of the chapel service, the "faculty," true to tradition, began to straggle in. They proceeded to the stage with their varying and peculiar gait, greeted with howls of approbation. The last was first and the first was the last, "Doctor Kershner" winning the tardy prize. The house being brought to order, the knowledge dispensers led the audience soulfully through the strains of "Chinatown" with a solemn "A-a-a-a-men!" at the close. The President introduced the speaker of the morning next—the learned "Doctor Roberts," alias Joe McNamara, historian, author, etc., inferring that the same gave him great pleasure.

This dignitary, in all the sublimity of his bald wig, sober mien, and graceful bearing, delivered some deep dope on the subject of Scotch Johnny-Cake, concluding with the reading of Martha Washington's will. The address being hailed with delight, "Doctor Kershner" averred that it required no words on his part to express the sense of deep and abiding appreciation, etc., etc. "Prof. Beutel," alias T. P. Sweeney, was with due encomiums presented, and, rendering an artistic version of "Dallas Blues" on the piano, with attendant wiggles and bows, was dismissed with applause by the audience and more eulogy by the "President." "Dr. Gumm," alias John P. Cox, preceded by the customary panegyric, addressed the crowd on the "way they did at Polytechnic", not failing to recommend himself most highly. The rest of the faculty embodied their mannerisms and mental peculiarities in announcements.

"Prof. Kinsey", alias Willis Stovall, asking the two in his large class who had books should take a certain amount in advance, "Dr. Batson", alias Shirley Sweeney, assigning some extra 700 pages, "Prof. Knight", alias R. L. Hayes, adding verbosity to injury, etc., ad infinitum. "Prof. Hall", alias B. Knight, being disturbed in his announcement concerning discipline, church services, etc., by the leaving of the room on the part of three young men, christened the offenders in no uncertain terms as "trash", brought them in deep humiliation to their seats, and then announced the faculty meeting for 3:30. End of Act I.

Intermission: "Prof. Roberts", and "Prof. Dabbs", Birge Holt, stage the "chaperone glide."

Act II. At a stormy session of the faculty, the question of hazing the preps, and the Y. M. C. A. petition for redress of grievances in Clark Hall were dealt with. Rising votes on various points showed the faculty that the students knew how they stood on same. Dr. Gumm leaves to meet Pres. Wilson and address International Conference on something-or-other. "Adkins", T. P. Frizzell, gets disgusted; leaves. Dr. Roberts partakes periodically of refreshments. Proceedings end with no decision on anything, which proves to be eminently satisfactory as well as customary. Curtain.

It was a howling success. Being largely impromptu only added fidelity to life. The vindictive student body witnessed its wrongs avenged; the malefascant faculty saw themselves as others see them. In short, it was overwhelming.

Other stars who lost no opportunities for emphasizing the bad qualities of their prototypes were Mary Muse as Mrs. Sargeant, Horace Jones as Dr. Lockhart, Bentley as Dr. Cockrell, McKnight as Prof. Alexander, Margaret Gibson as Mrs. Cahoon, Sam Frizzell as Mr. Cahoon, Ruby Walker as Miss Powell, Lera Brown as Mrs. Cockrell, Ann McLendon as Mrs. Boggess, Mattie Harrell as Miss Wilkinson, Gladys Huckabee as Mrs. Kinsey, Amboline Tyson as Miss Vickrey, Carl Tittle as Prof. Cantrell, Guy Tittle as Professor Boles, Clyde Tomlinson as Prof. McPherson, Aaron Griffing as Prof. Hayes, Dorothy Agee as Miss Case.

DEAN W. B. PARKS WILL DIRECT WORK OF SUMMER SCHOOL

Normal Which Opens June 8 to be in Charge of M. H. Moore

Dean W. B. Parks will be at the head of the T. C. U. summer school. It is announced that he will return from Chicago where he has been on leave of absence this year in time to start the work off June 14.

Practically the entire university faculty will offer courses in the summer session of six weeks. Students who intend to take summer work must arrange it with their respective teachers.

The summer normal which will open June 8, two days before commencement, will be under the direction of Prof. M. H. Moore, assistant superintendent of schools in Fort Worth.

Between 350 and 400 students are expected to enroll in both summer divisions. Professor John W. Kinsey, who is directing the preliminary work for the summer normal and summer school, says that the largest number of students ever enrolled in the normal is anticipated. He expects this to be a banner year.

Reduced rates have been secured for those who attend the summer normal from points over the state.

In order to give late comers an equal opportunity with those enrolling at the beginning of the session the system which has been in effect at the state normal schools for several years of giving a double series of examinations, will be in vogue here.

A corps of expert teachers has been obtained to teach in the normal.

Miss Cora Patterson, who will have charge of the Primary Methods course, brought her class out from the Eleventh Ward school Saturday and demonstrated to students in the Education Department her method of instruction. In teaching her model class how to read she writes a sentence on the board as "I can skip" and the children will show their ability to read it by skipping around the room.

McFADIN RAISING STUDENT LOAN FUND

Enough Money to Put Fifty Students in School Will be Ready by Fall

G. D. McFadin of Austin, who is raising the $25,000 ministerial student loan fund for the benefit of Brite Bible College students, was here the first of the week in the interest of the work. He has already raised enough money to put thirty-five students in college and is confident that by September he will have added enough to the fund to aid fifty in getting an education.

By means of this loan fund students who are planning to enter the ministry and have not enough money to put them through college will be enabled to finish the desired course in the T. C. U. Bible College by borrowing from this fund. Many poor students will be benefited by this arrangement.

T.C.U. Medical College Given Ranking of "A" By State Medical Board

The Medical Department of Texas Christian University has been given a grade of "A" by the state board of medical examiners. Following a meeting of the board in Fort Worth sometime ago and a visit to the College of Medicine, members of the board were convinced that the school deserved the highest ranking that could be given it.

During the past year the College of Medicine has been ranked as a "B" college. This new announcement is a big boost for T. C. U.'s Medical Department.

Dr. S. A. Woodward is dean of the Medical College.

ONLY A WEEK LEFT TO PREPARE FOR REED CONTEST

Although no date has been fixed by the Oratorical Association for the Reed Oratorical contest, it will most likely be held on Tuesday morning of commencement week, as that is the only morning open.

E. R. Bentley, president of the Oratorical Association, has been out of the city this week and it could not be learned whether he had arranged for the contest. Those who are planning to enter the contest will have only a week or so at the latest to get their manuscripts in and prepare for the contest. The winner will receive a gold watch given by Mr. Reed.

A MISSION FOR COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN.

Thousands of boys and girls will be graduated from the high schools of Texas in June. Many of them will go to college. Many of them will not be able to go. Many will be undecided about adding to their educational experience by attending a higher school. They may not appreciate the value of the broader outlook and the deeper understanding of life or the better preparation for their work that results from a diligent and earnest career at college. They may not have had the idea of getting a college education impressed on them sufficiently to know anything about the purpose of it or to care anything about the meaning of it.

Right here the college student has a mission.

You college men and women who are soon to return to your homes, if you do nothing more than line one boy or one girl up for getting a college education, you have done a good summer's work.

There is a tendency among our young people nowadays to jump right into some line of work as soon as they finish high school, or before, and refuse to quit their first job in order to prepare themselves for a better place. This is due to lack of vision. They need somebody to broaden their conception of a man's duty to himself and his fellowman. Young men and young women who have been to college are supposed to have a broader vision on life and a realization of the purpose and value of college life in particular. They should make it their mission to impress a realization of this vision on their high school graduate friends and acquaintances, at least to the extent of settling in their minds a conviction to get a college education.

A college education is something worth working for. It is more than a mere means of enabling a man to make more money with it than without it. It does more than give a man training in mental efficiency. Young boys and girls should be made to understand this. The opportunity is open to the college student. Let him use his influence to a good advantage and spread the gospel of getting a college education.

Although what school to attend is a secondary consideration, it is also an important matter. The essential thing is to show them that they need a college education and persuade them that they want it. There are plenty of schools where they can get their higher education. Of course, every loyal student who has the spirit of his school will speak for his own college.

It might be well to mention to your friends and any high school graduates whom you meet during the summer that T. C. U. is to have the biggest year of her history next year. A campaign to enroll 1,000 students in September is under way. Prospects all along the line indicate that T. C. U. is to see a big year.

If every student in T. C. U. would make it a point to enlist one more student for next fall, he would have done a valuable service.

T.W.C. WINS WASHER CUP IN GIRLS' TENNIS MATCH

Miss Ruth Doty of Texas Woman's College won the Washer trophy for T. W. C. Monday by defeating Miss Minnie Proctor in the final match of the girls' tennis tournament. Only singles were played, Miss Doty winning two love sets, 6-0, 6-0.

The cup is now the permanent possession of T. W. C. The tennis tournament will be an annual affair. The girls' courts will be in better condition next year and the coeds are expected to do better work than this year.

THE CHIEF AIM OF EDUCATION

(Extract from an article by J. V. Collins in the Education Magazine.)

The United States needs a new and higher aim and end in education. Social efficiency as an aim is too narrow and too discrete in character. Glorification of country, we have seen, is a sorry end indeed for education. An end must be had which will stand the acid test, and not break down the first time it is used. The United States needs the best aim there is, as does every other country. This is found in the law, which says: Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, and thy neighbor as thyself, or better than thyself. This end would recognize God as a person, creator, sustainer, father, and friend of all, and it would

SMALL BUT JOLLY BUNCH GO ON PICNIC TO RIVER

A group of merry picnickers, recruited from the Shirley and the Walton Literary Societies, invaded Ford's store at 8 o'clock Monday morning, loaded themselves with fruit and "victuals", and then struck out for the shady banks of the River Trinity.

Once there, the lunches were stacked under a sheltering bush, and then two hours were spent in enjoying the pleasures afforded by a beautiful woodland bank. About 11:00 all turned their steps to the "lunch bush." To their dismay the eats were gone! A little detective work, however, on the part of the chaperone, Horace Jones, found the culprits to be Mr. Aiken and Miss Molly Jones, (who, having brought only 12 sandwiches for themselves, were afraid they would not have enough to eat). The lunches were brought from their hiding places, and a delightful spread was indulged in by all. River water served as coffee, and made a very realistic substitute on account of the mud that was stirred up by a swimming party a few rods up the stream.

After another half-hour's enjoyment, the party returned to Ford's store, where ice-cream served as a refreshment after the morning's pleasure.

also recognize him as standing for the true, the beautiful, and the enduring. The second part of the aim would include social efficiency and a vast deal besides.

To use the above described aim in education would be both to teach religion in the public schools and not to teach religion. The part taught would be common to all the great religions of the world except Buddhism, which declares God to be an impersonal being. As already stated only atheists who believe there is no God would be misrepresented by such teaching. Undoubtedly it is hard to teach anything and have everybody agree with it. The burglars believe in burglarizing though society does not; the gamblers believe in public gambling though society does not; the tramps believe in tramping though society does not. There must be a limit to yielding somewhere, and it ought to come on the above described aim in education.

FARM DEMONSTRATOR ADDRESSES ECO. CLASS

G. W. Eudaly, United States Agriculture agent, addressed the students of Professor Cockrell's Rural Economics class Saturday morning, emphasizing the need and value of teaching agriculture and industrial training in Texas schools and colleges.

Mr. Eudaly has been a scientific farmer for thirty-six years and is an expert agriculturist. In his address to the students he paid a high tribute to the State Agricultural and Mechanical college, and stated that the sister institute to the Agricultural and Mechanical college, the College of Industrial Arts at Denton, was one of the South's most worthy institutions. He declared that Texas needs three more agricultural colleges, and that the time was soon coming when they would be established in different sections of the state.

Mr. Eudaly said that the best law that had been passed in Texas since he had been here was the compulsion of agriculture being taught in all state schools. Until five years ago, according to Mr. Eudaly, Texas had made no step to encourage the pursuit of farming attractive to the student. He said, however, that the United States and especially Texas is dependent on agriculture for prosperity. According to Mr. Eudaly the one secret of successful farming in Texas is knowing what theory to apply to a certain part of the country. He stated that the problem was so hard on account of the varying kinds of soil.

Mr. Eudaly stated that the 90 per cent of all successful men in the United States had come from the farm, and that the average life of the farmer was longer than of any other class of people.

MISS CASSELL ENTERTAINS

Saturday night Miss Carrie Cassell was hostess to a few friends in her home on Pennsylvania avenue. Soon after the guests arrived they enjoyed a long automobile ride around the city. Afterwards a delightfully informal picnic lunch was served to the following: Misses Taylor, Margaret Gibson, Vista Woods, Mary Grace Muse; Messrs. Davis, Crawford B. Reeder, Ewell McKnight, Karl Henderson and John L. Cassell.

GIRLS LEND A HAND AND HELP BUILD THEIR WALK

"At any rate, you have to hand it to the girls!" Such a remark was uttered by a T. C. U. boy upon being told that the girls had added enough to Mr. Van Zandt Jarvis' $20 to build a cement walk from the edge of the Jarvis Hall porch to the new gravel driveway.

A few weeks ago Mr. Jarvis very generously contributed a small but appreciable sum toward the laying of a cement walk from Jarvis Hall to the car line. This movement, furthered by Mr. Cahoon, was taken up by Ruby Frances and various other girls, and the result is that real work on the walk has already been begun and is to be finished before Commencement.

Thanks to the girls!

MANY T. C. U. STUDENTS HEAR JORDAN LECTURE

A large crowd of students and members of the faculty took advantage of a rare opportunity to hear the world-famous David Starr Jordan at the Chamber of Commerce last Monday afternoon.

Dr. Jordan spoke in a plain, easy, conversational manner, but always held the individual attention of his hearers. Dr. Jordan's secretary sold meal tickets that were used by the Belgians. The tickets had many holes punched in them showing that they had been used. The proceeds of the sale of these tickets went to help in the feeding of the helpless Belgians.

Dr. Jordan pictured some of the horrors that belong to warfare as carried on in the present war. His last words were for the people of America to stand behind President Wilson in his peace policy.

PIANIST AT CHAPEL

Mr. J. Casperson of Chicago entertained the chapel audience of the university Wednesday morning, May 26, with a brief, well-rendered piano recital. MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION HOLDS PICNIC AT PARK

The ministerial association held their annual picnic in Forest Park Thursday afternoon when thirty-five were present.

An excellent program was provided by the toastmaster, W. B. Higgins. Following the supper toasts were given by Mrs. Crain, B. S. Smiser and William Jones.

PROF. COCKRELL DELIVERS COMMENCEMENT ADDRESSES

Prof. E. R. Cockrell and Wm. Jones took part in the commencement exercises of the Palmer High School last Sunday morning.

The commencement sermon was both pleasingly and effectively preached by Prof. Cockrell. Some old T. C. U. students were present.

Masal Jeffers spent the week end at home and attended the service, for she is a graduate of that school.

Prof. Cockrell left Palmer in the afternoon for Rockwall where he delivered another commencement address and Wm. Jones preached there at night.

TO the STUDENTS of T. C. U.

You may think little of your college experience now because you may think it has been a burden to have to study hard, but the day will come in life when you will be glad of your college days and the sweet associations. You will wish for something as a permanent recollection. Ask your friends for a photograph made by Mims, the official photographer. Special rates to students.
