

Photographer unknown via Arquivos Do Insolito

Back in 1930, Mbozi was only half visible, so deeply was it buried in the soil; today the soil around it has been excavated and a plinth constructed beneath it, though its original position is said to be preserved.