Fort Worth has had two organizations that were used for the development of the city. They have been merged and a new secretary chosen, also an industrial secretary. Fort Worth business men wanted a young man to lead them because they claimed an older man has not the initiative that a young man possess. Fort Worth expects to grow rapidly within the next ten years than any other like period in the city's history. Amon G. Car- president of the Star-Telegram Publishing Company is the power city that is building Fort
