

November 7, 1953.

Mr. O. M. Mosier, Vice-President
American Airlines, Inc.
New York Airport Station
Flushing, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Mosier:

Mr. Carter asked me to thank you for sending him the photographs made at the airport in connection with the DC-7 preview, and to tell you that he hopes the ship is more flexible than he seems to be in the picture.

Mr. Carter really outdid himself in New York, so the doctors have "grounded" him again and he is very unhappy, but has finally given in to follow the doctors orders.

Best wishes,

Sincerely,

Secretary to A. G. Carter
