

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

120 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

JOSEPH F. MANN
GENERAL COUNSEL

May 3, 1943.

Miss K. Deakins,
Secretary to Mr. Amon G. Carter,
Fort Worth, Texas.

My dear Miss Deakins:

Is my face red! I am unable to explain why the letters to Mr. Carter were sent to Houston instead of Fort Worth.

I am delighted to hear the news that Amon, Jr. is no longer missing, even if the news does locate him as a German prisoner.

Never mind the inquiry as to Mrs. Wilson. I have today heard from my son in Africa, giving a new address for her which I hope is correct. I am much more interested, of course, in the fact that this brings my son safe and sound as late as April 4.

Very truly yours,
