Frosh Like Hazing Part of Education Probation Too Long Flexible Rules

(Editor's Note: This column is written each week by different students or faculty members who are asked to present their viewpoints on any subjects which they see fit.)

By ELMER SEYBOLD (Graduate Student)

"Let the one among you without sin cast the first stone," so said the Master several centuries ago. And so let it be with each and every one on this campus now.

I am not offering this to be taken literally, for I do not recall any case in which anyone has been actually stoned in public here. I hope that I am not called upon to witness such an act. I am referring to the happenings on this campus where a person is put on probation just by word of someone else who was supposed to have seen the "culprit" commit the dastardly act of laying the wood on a "poor defenseless freshman" in the most convenient place.

I am of the opinion that any red-blooded American youth who enters college is expecting to get paddled now and then, and looks forward to it and feels a little disappointed if he does not receive the treatment he has always been told was part of a college education. It is almost as hard to find an active, fun-loving fellow in a university that has never "hazed" a freshman as it would be to find any food after a football banquet. Either one would be almost unbelievable.

The real thing that I am concerned with is not the "hazing" of freshmen but the flexibility of the rules and regulations covering the offenses or crimes committed by the average university youth. You know if a thing is flexible enough, it can be made to follow any line or take any shape that the person or persons controlling it desire, so is the case with our own governing and controlling regulations in the University.

I have only to bring to mind a few incidents to illustrate the idea that I have in mind. A year or so ago we had a likeable lad on the campus who was fun-loving and full of life. Well, he pulled a prank, really, it was all in fun, and what happened? That boy was sent home. I will admit that he had been somewhat of a problem and probably needed expelling from the school, but there are many more who do the same thing this fellow was accused of doing, and nothing is ever said to them.

Another case is that of several boys who were "kicked out" of school for committing some minor crime, that probably all of us have done some time or other, but did they stay out? I should like to tell you they did not. They had someone to come and plead their case for them and they were reinstated so quickly that very few on the campus knew that anything was amiss. Of course someone has to be the goat and be used as an example at times, but why? Why can't everyone be treated equally in this democratic (or is it?) school of ours?

The way things are at present, if a student is placed on probation, or suspended sentence, for it amounts to the same thing, he or she is on probation for an indefinite period.

"All the News That's Unfit to Print" Is Motto.

Weaver, Press Editor, to Speak in Chapel—Open House in Jarvis in Afternoon.

You had better dodge! The "Yellow" will get you if you don't watch out.

Next Wednesday is the Big Day. At 11 o'clock that morning, the annual Skiff Yellow Extra will make its appearance—with all of the news that's unfit to print.

Just who make up the staff of the paper will be kept a deep, dark secret—in the interest of public welfare and safety.

The occasion is the annual Journalism Day on the campus. The Yellow Extra is issued as a "terrible example," to illustrate vividly all of the things that a newspaper should NOT be.

On the serious side, students from the department of journalism will present as the chapel speaker, Don Weaver, editor-in-chief of The Fort Worth Press.

From 4 to 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the journalism students will hold open house in Jarvis Hall. Invitations have been issued to the senior journalism students in the Ft. Worth high schools, T. C. U. student body officers and club and class presidents, and faculty members.

Sophs to Take Tests May 3, 4

Date Changed to Avoid Conflict—Classes to Be Excused.

The dates of the annual nationwide sophomore tests have been changed to May 3 and 4 to avoid conflict with the lectures at T. C. U. in connection with the Institute of Public Affairs April 26 and 27, Dean Colby Hall announced today.

One hundred and ninety-six sophomores are expected to take the pre-junior achievement tests. No credit is given for the examinations and the information is used merely to aid students in their selection of their future studies.

Juniors and seniors who have never taken the tests may do so in order that they may check on themselves as to their general knowledge. Names of the 26 upperclassmen eligible will be posted along with the regular sophomores. They must make special arrangements with Prof. R. A. Smith.

The tests will be given from 8 to 12 a. m. each of the two days. Regular classes will be dismissed.

Of an objective nature, the annual tests rate each pre-junior student in comparison with 20,000 other students over the nation and also with other T. C. U. students.

The tests are divided into 11 sections on which grades are given: History and social sciences, foreign literature, English usage, spelling, vocabulary, total English, literary acquaintance, general science and foreign language.

Series Speaker

William Lonsdale Taylor, Columbia University, will speak at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in Brite Club Room. His subject is "The Washington Textile Conference."

Dr. Elliott Voices Protests on War

"I pledge my word and honor that I shall have no part in the coming of the next war, but shall do all I can to prevent its arrival," Dr. Edwin A. Elliott declared yesterday morning, crystallizing the thought of the 250 students who gathered around the bandstand in T. C. U.'s first campus-wide "strike" against war.

While he spoke, more than 1,000 other American college students were staging similar demonstrations over the country.

Dr. Elliott was introduced by Mayor W. J. Hammond, war-time buddy of his. A loud speaker system carried their voices to students leaning out of windows, perched on the steps and sitting and standing on the grass.

Harry Roberts and Truitt Kennedy made short introductory talks and the Horned Frog Band played. On the bandstand with the speakers were Prof. C. R. Sheerer and Dr. Allen True.

Earlier in the morning Rufus Whitley and Kennedy delivered speeches over local radio stations. Whitley was forced to "cut" excerpts from his talk before he gave it.

"Certain forces have been very active in the past in building up a strong psychology for war," said Whitley in his speech. "It is the object of the one million college students today to build up a psychology as strong or stronger against war. . . . Forces which have looked from the surface to be very patriotic have had their share in bringing about war in the past, forces which are the products of imperialistic doctrines."

He was forced to cut the line, " . . . forces promulgated by such organizations as the R. O. T. C., D. A. R. and the American Legion."

Dr. Elliott's speech pointed the way to "a new patriotism," he said. "The old patriot was a cheap, little fellow who could see only a small part of the world's map."

5th Band Concert 8 P.M. Wednesday

The Horned Frog Band will present its fifth program of the season at 8 p. m., Tuesday, in the auditorium.

The band will feature the following numbers: "Park Avenue Fantasy," "Reflections in a Modern Mood," "Claire Delune," "The Maid with the Flaxen Hair," and a symphonic arrangement of "Temptation."

The comic opera, "Roman in the Gloamin'," will also be given. The price of admission is 25c.

T. C. U. to 'Bunk' Texas Folk-Lorists For Two Days of Yarn Swappin', Tall Tales and Western Poetry

"Boss" Major Corrals Delegates at 8 o'clock Tonight for Annual Round-up—Chuck Tomorrow Night, Climax.

"Early in the spring we round up the dogies, Mark and brand and bob off their tails; Round-up our horses, load up the chuck-wagon, Then throw the dogies upon the trail."

Folk writers and singers from all of Texas will respond to such a call when they gather for their 23rd annual round-up beginning at 8 o'clock tonight in the Auditorium.

After the president's welcome by Miss Mabel Major the "folk-lorists" will get to the business in hand. "Syrup Making Time in East Texas" and "Rattlesnake Oil" will be highlights of the first evening's program. And you can judge whether you have the "folk-lore bug" or not by the way the subjects appeal to you.

Dr. Josiah Combs will entertain with his famous dulcimer and "Kentucky Mountain Ballads." He has received an honor unknown to many — national recognition in folk-lore. These "folk-lorists" are versatile people. Tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock they will meet at the Fort Worth Recreation Building to see folk-lore in action. Folk dances and songs that express the feelings and moods of the races will be performed. There will be groups of American, Mexican and Negro dances.

Mary Daggett Lake of Fort Worth, noted for her garden work, will speak tomorrow afternoon on "Folk-Lore in Names of Texas Flowers." G. T. Bludworth of Fort Worth will tell a "Razor-back Story" on the same program. He has the distinction of being a life member of the society.

The meeting will reach its climax at the subscription dinner at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night in the T. C. U. Cafeteria. "The Roundup of Folk Writers and Singers," as it is called, will proceed under the direction of Dr. Rebecca Smith, "The Boss."

The T. C. U. Glee Club will sing songs of the range and plantation adapted from David Guion, Oscar Fox, Alice Mayfield Brooks, and William J. Marsh.

Eight Texas poets who have been corralled will be presented, one of whom everyone knows, Pat Moreland.

J. Frank Dobie, "Outfit Ramrod," will make the address of the evening.

Miss Major has announced that all meetings are open to the students and general public and that tickets for the banquet may be obtained from Mrs. Pottsie Garrett.

Students Hard to Fool.

The nation-wide youth strike against war was participated in yesterday by at least 1,000,000 college students all over America. The fact that they did participate shows that the youth of today realize the futility of war and intend to do something about it. They can read between the lines in their history books and thereby hangs the tale.

They know that war is not only futile but that the "cause," whatever it may be, is usually lost, as well as an entire generation of men— young men, not the old men who instigate wars, but young men of college age. The situation in Spain today shows that modern warfare goes still further and that women and children and helpless wounded in hospitals have been added to the slaughter.

They know that there is no longer any ethics in war. Prior to Mussolini's warfare in Ethiopia, planes did not bomb hospitals. Mussolini is one of the products of the recent World War's "war to end war" and "Make the world safe for democracy" slogans. Since that war, dictatorships, facism and all of the rest of the "isms" have sprung up with alarming rapidity. That makes the average person ask, "What DID the war accomplish?" Whisper it—Nothing!

The student strike against war was begun in 1934. Students at T. C. U. participated for the first time this year. The purpose of the strike is to "create and support an aggressive peace policy through a nation-wide demonstration of solidarity for world peace." T. C. U. students participated for the more specific purpose of defeating the bill introduced by Representative Petch in the Texas Legislature which would make military training compulsory at the University of Texas.

The youth of America not only want peace. They demand peace.

Seniors to Eat.

According to Ned James, business manager of the junior class, the style show and dance sponsored by that class last Friday was a success. To be exact they made $50 on it. Which means that some of the senior class will be fed when the Junior-Senior class banquet is given.

The class plans to raise the rest of the money somehow. Several means have been suggested. The point of the whole thing is, however, that for the first time in several years the members of the junior class are not going to have to dig down into their own pockets to pay both for their ticket and the ticket of a senior as well.

Tain't So.

After all these years it is just too much. First, the students seem to be reading the editorials. Then—hold your breath—one may begin to see, of all things, grass—that's right, grass—on the paths. Quick, the smelling salts, James.

Give Yourself a Treat.

Roll on, little dogies, roll on, roll on.

The twenty-third annual "Round-Up" of the Texas Folklore Society will be officially opened this evening at 8 o'clock by Miss Mabel Major, president of the society. Students on the campus will accept that statement tamely enough, no doubt, but that is because they do not fully understand what this means to Miss Major and Dr. Rebecca Smith.

For years these two members of the English department have fought tooth and nail to bring that Round-Up to this campus. They had to put up an even stiffer fight this year because other universities wanted it just as badly. Since the Round-Up is held every other year at the University of Texas, it would have been three years before the opportunity presented itself again. Then the up-classesmen on the campus would not have been present to participate.

The student body is cordially invited to attend any or all of the events, with special emphasis upon the program to be given tomorrow morning at the Recreation Building and the banquet tomorrow night in the Cafeteria.

Bring along your greatest capacity for enjoyment and hop on the Chuck Wagon with Miss Major and Aunt Rebecca Smith, the boss of the outfit, and help to make this Round-Up the success which it deserves to be.

Roll on, little dogies, roll on, roll on.

Give Prouse a Hand.

Leave it to that man Prouse to start something. He made the Intramural Open House a success and now he is sponsoring the Intramural Track and Field Meet.

Now is the chance for some of the men on the campus who cannot participate in varsity athletics to rise and shine.

The event promises to be well worth entering or watching, as the case may be. All events are well filled at this date but there is still time to sign up and start training.

Give that man Prouse all of the co-operation possible to make this, his latest affair, the success which it deserves to be.

TODAY'S WORLD

BIG LEAGUE BASEBALL

By ROSEMARY COLLYER

Little do people realize, when they go to a big league baseball game, the tremendous amount of capital which is involved in every game. Managing one of the major league clubs is not so much velvet as it is often imagined to be. Baseball is now as big a business as exists anywhere in America.

Ahner Doubleday, a major general in the U. S. Army, originated baseball in 1839 at Cooperstown, N. Y. Originally there was only one base, besides the home plate. The game was similar to present day "scrub" baseball. There were two batters, the rest of the players being in the field. There was no baseman, as it was only necessary to hit the runner with the ball to put him out.

The next step in baseball's development was the choosing of sides. This was called "Two Old Cat." There were two men on each side. Soon extra bases and more players were brought into the game. Finally there were three bases and 11 players on each side. The extra shortstop and extra second baseman were soon dropped and the game became similar to its modern version.

The major baseball leagues, American and National, operate under a major league agreement which provides for a commissioner who shall hold office for seven years at a salary of $50,000 per year. His duty is to prevent and to punish all acts detrimental to the best interests of baseball, and to uphold all the laws set out in the major league agreement. The advisory council, composed of the presidents of the two leagues and the commissioner, proposes new laws and regulations. A secretary-treasurer completes the group.

Organized baseball remains the number one sport, for those who take their exercise sitting down, despite the inroads of football, basketball and hockey.

The annual budget of a major league club will run from $400,000 to $600,000. Some teams spend a great deal more, none less. As an investment, baseball will scarcely rank in stability and steady dividends with

PRESS KNIFE GENTLY, FALL GRACEFULLY.

"A knife-thrust, a groan, a slithering sound as a body slipped to the floor, lifeless—and then the corpse got up," begins a story in the O. U. paper.

This blood-and-thunder description refers to the men's dancing class, members of which are learning to die and slide to the floor without a bruise—all to the sweet strains of music.

Wonder if any slips are ever made with those knives?

HMM! WHAT'S THE COURSE GOT?

Students enrolled in a class in chemical photography at John Tarleton have become so interested in their work that they insist on slaving at night, too. The prof., S. F. Davis, holds his head in worry at the over-interest and runs a ragged night life trying to keep the students out of the lab at night. Must be some secret formula involved!

MONEY GAINS PEP ANYWAY

Baylor is passing the hat around the campus for a yell leaders' fund which will pay the pepsters' expenses and buy awards next fall. The Chamber of Commerce began the drive with $10. Donations this week reached $50. S'good idea right in 'ole Frogland—our yell leaders would probably make an impress in California!

DEPRESSION OVER; IMPRESSION IN VOGUE

Beaus are sending their gals bigger and better corsages, say campus posey peddlers at Temple University in Philadelphia.

The males are also becoming extremely particular about the corsage arrangement. They call for wrist, waist, tiara, halo and shoulder floral offerings. Some (it could be the weather) even call for orchids and camellias, but the most popular flowers to be made into a corsage is the white gardenia.

Toler Is Not Allowed To Give Radio Speech

J. O. Toler was refused permission Tuesday to deliver a scheduled address over KTAT on a program sponsored by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Mabel Jones, local president, cancelled the talk when she learned that Toler was to speak in favor of President Roosevelt's Supreme Court plan. His topic was "Supreme Court Revision."

Du Pont common. It is not surprising that all big league teams are owned by small groups of persons or by one. Ordinary stockholders would not stand the gaff.

The payroll of the major leagues totals $3,200,000 this year. The wage scale ranges from $3500 for a run-of-the-mill rookie to $36,000 for the New York Yankee's first baseman, Lou Gehrig. The salaries are fixed, not by a players' union, but solely by the owners of the 16 clubs composing the leagues.

Once he signs his first contract, a player becomes club property. His owner can sell or trade him like a race-horse, or fire him on 10 days' notice. If, before the season opens, the player decides he wants more money, he can either quit baseball or revert to the game's version of the sit-down strike—the holdout.

The big league teams all own minor league clubs as training grounds for players. This constitutes one of the largest items on the budget. Other items are: about $50,000 for four or five scouts; spring training in the South around $20,000 to $30,000; around $50,000 for pullmans, railway fares, hotel and food bills; $50,000 in salaries for the executive staff; $35,000 for ushers, ticket takers, groundkeepers and their equipment; $10,000 for newspaper advertising and promotion expenses; around 6000 balls a year at $1.25 per ball; about $7,500 for uniforms, bats, gloves, shoes, sweaters and other equipment; about the same amount for medical services; and $7,500 insurance against petty accidents to the spectators.

Owners have often paid more for one player than they did for the entire club franchise. That is baseball's greatest gamble. Babe Ruth was bought from the Boston Red Sox for the Yankee team for $100,000. He more than made that up in his years with the team. Others have not been so lucky. Injury may keep a player out the entire season and then the owner is sunk.

The 1936 figures show that 302,924 spectators paid $1,104,399 to see six games of the world series, and the radio rights brought in an additional $100,000. Baseball is really a Big Business.

Trip to Mexico Among Glee Club Tour Highlights

By G. L. MESSENGER, JR.

The 1937 Tour of the Men's Glee Club of Texas Christian University is history. Saturday morning at 2 o'clock the chartered Dixie Flyer arrived on the Campus with the 26 members of the party after a 1500-mile tour over the entire lower part of the state. During the course of the 10-day trip the Glee Club presented 11 complete concerts and a dozen others of varying nature before High Schools, Colleges, etc.

On Thursday, April 8th, at 11 a. m. we sang before the House of Representatives, at 11:20 we were guests of the Senate, and at 11:40 we had our picture made with Governor Allred and rendered two numbers for him in the Governor's reception room of the State Capitol.

The next morning down in San Antonio at the State Federation of Music Clubs convention we entered the contest for Men's Glee Clubs and walked off with the cup for the second year in succession. The group listening to the contest appreciated the work of the T. C. U. Men's Glee Club so much that we had to sing several numbers more for them. That evening we were presented on the Texas Composers' program. Before we sang most of us met Oscar J. Fox, one of the best known of the Texas composers, and he heard us sing his popular "White in the Moon."

On Sunday afternoon, April 11th, came the high point of the entire trip. That afternoon we sang in the First Christian Church at Harlingen. At this concert as our guest of honor we had Miss M. Flora Todd. Miss Todd won a $50 prize for writing the best composition for male voices, in a contest sponsored by the Texas Composers' Guild last year.

The number is "War," the poem being that famous contribution of Richard LeGallienne's to the pacifist movement. Miss Todd had never heard her number ever before presented until that afternoon when she heard the T. C. U. Men's Glee Club sing it for her. None of us will forget that momentous occasion for only once or twice in a lifetime does one have the privilege of being one of those who presents a composer's work for the first time.

While in the Rio Grande valley we had two opportunities of going into Mexico. Saturday night we went from Mission over to Renosa and on Sunday night the trip was into Matamoros from Brownsville. It was quite a thrill for most of us to find ourselves outside of the United States for the first time in our lives.

The remainder of the trip was highly interesting but nothing of special importance happened with the exception that in Huntsville we had the opportunity of going through the state prison and also to inspect Sam Houston's old home.

The entire trip was one of keen enjoyment by every member of the group. Perhaps no other trip has found the Glee Club so well received as it was this year. The weather was ideal the entire trip, which was a decided advantage as far as the finances were concerned, but the Business Manager tells us that the weather was not good enough.

The trip is over and now we are spending our time in catching up with all that happened while we were away, particularly in regards to those classes. But it was a great trip and worth what sacrifice we made.

Dear Editor: For the most part the members of the faculty approved, or at least didn't object, to the student strike against war yesterday. But there were a few who did. Their reason? They either thought the demonstration futile or resented the damnation of classes.

It is all very well for the faculty of a university to do more than their share of the running of the university and of the students as well, but the attitude of those who objected, though decidedly in the minority, was uncalled for as well as unnecessary. This particular instance happened to be the concern of the students themselves.

There is nothing quite so obnoxious as an unwanted opinion.—R. D. C.

Dear Editor:

How, frantically, conservative "patriots" of this country are denying their fellow citizens the freedom of speech granted them in the Constitution may be seen in recent developments here at T. C. U.

Yesterday morning Rufus Whitley could not mention the names of the R. O. T. C., D. A. R., and the American Legion as "forces building up a strong psychology for war." Radio Station KTAT censored the talk, refusing to let him express his opinion.

Tuesday morning J. O. Tolar was told he could not deliver a speech prepared for the Daughters of the American Revolution radio program at 4 p. m. the reason being, the president said, that he favored Roosevelt's Supreme Court plan, which she declared was contrary to the Constitution.

Fascistic forces are on the increase with the throttling of free speech in all parts of the country. We do not have communism to fight in America, but fascism. It not only CAN HAPPEN HERE, BUT IS HAPPENING HERE!

OBJECTOR.

TOADS' TUX

By Herman

What freshman in the band this week entered the side door of Jarvis Hall and began inquiring as to the whereabouts of his date's room? Mrs. Beckham had to tell him that the proper procedure was to wait in the parlor.

CLYDE SCOTT was seen this week juggling with ANN RYAN.

Note to MRS. BECKHAM: It was none other than LARRY HARRISON whom you saw on the Jarvis fire escape Tuesday night. However, he has a legitimate excuse. He was looking for his shoes.

DON McLELAND should see that MARTHA OLIVE brushes the grass off her dress before appearing in public.

ROBERT FORTE is running under the other swains of Millie Knox with three evening and five afternoon dates in five days. . . . Look out OTIS HENRY, OLIN JONES and Company.

Another McKinney boy is having dates with Frosty Reid and the procession seems endless. . . . poor room 105 Goode they never get a break.

VAN PATRICK, the hill billy from Arkansas, thought his girl from home was coming down so he placed in the broad jump Tuesday. . . . Poss Clark should try that often.

A proposed picnic involving CORA CHAPPEL, NELL ROGERS, FROSTY READ, KATHRYN MELTON and their lates was almost squelched by Mrs. Beckham when the stories of the girls could not agree. MAURINE RICE just had to have one more bottle on this picnic. . . . Yea, a Sunday school affair.

W. O. DE WEES invariably asks his hard of hearing neighbor in history class the time till the bell and for the past few meetings DR. ALLAN TRUE has supplied the time. No hard feelings Dr. True insists.

WARD WILKINSON is the heart crush of a petite maiden in the gym. Her name? KATHRYN PIPKIN.

Rex McFall and George Pollard after taking their dates home the other evening decided to visit a "burlesque" show. Somé effect these Jarvis Hall girls have.

Ila Dell, the drug store waitress, has been escorted home by various members of the male population at T. C. U. this spring. . . . Must be the early hours the girls must be in. Is that so, George Campbell?

RIDINGS HITINGS

By PAUL (SCOOP) RIDINGS

FROGLAND would benefit greatly should the Southwest conference pass on equalizing the tuitions for working athletes at the various member schools. Baylor and S. M. U. would also benefit from such action, while Arkansas and Rice are rather indifferent, and Texas and A. & M. are against it.

The idea is simply this: An athlete who merited a job would be given a job that would cover his college expenses for the school he chose to enter.

At present the Southwest Conference has set a maximum of $450 that can be paid for any athlete's work. This means that even when the maximum is paid, the Frog athlete has to dig down in his own pocket to pay all his expenses, while the athlete at the state school who gets $450 will pay all his expenses and profit between $100 and $200.

Of course the reason for this difference can readily be seen when you note that it costs but $50 a year to attend a state school and $200 to attend T. C. U. Fees, board and room, etc., will easily eat up the other $250 of the salary here, while the boosters of the other schools have a $150 margin as a talking point. Certainly, this cold cash talking point is tending towards professionalism.

The main talking point against the equalization of the schools is that the athletes at the private schools will be getting paid more than their work is worth. Their salary in numbers on paper will be out of line with the others.

But, no cash will be paid to any athlete, and all will be receiving the same things for their work—education, board and room and tuition. An equalization of tuition would allow the high school athlete to choose the school he personally prefers and would keep him from being put on the professional basis of "where can I make the most money?"

The round of applause given Solon Holt as he received the Grassy Hinton Trophy in chapel Wednesday was fine tribute in itself. No other person or persons has received such terrific applause in recent years. Coach Dutch Meyer amply explained why the guard from Henderson was awarded the trophy, but here are a few personal facts. He stands six feet one, weighing 205 pounds, wore jersey No. 43 and earned his second varsity letter this year as a member of the Cotton Bowl Champions. He's also the roommate of Joe Frederick, Froglund's "Frankenstein."

HOLT

The donor of the trophy, Grassy Hinton, was a Horned Frog star from 1929 to 1932. He is now a second lieutenant in the United States Air Corps and is stationed at Barksdale Field in Shreveport, Louisiana. His entrance into the air corps followed his graduation in 1932 when he was the only candidate accepted out of about half a dozen applicants at T. C. U. He was sent to Randolph Field and led his flight of more than 200 cadets throughout their training.

He was then transferred to Barksdale Field where he has been ever since. His first two years there he was captain and coach of the Barksdale Field football team. As a Frog "Grassy" was a Sophomore and yet was a starting half-back on the first Purple championship team, the gridiron team of 1929. He continued to hold down his berth in 1930 and 1931. Hinton was also a baseball star and was a regular outfielder during his three years in Froglund.

Hinton was elected to captain the freshman team for the remainder of the year after the games played with the varsity last week. Players who will make the trip are: Tom Swiley, Pete Davis, Guy Kelly, Ben Abney and Capt. Keplinger. A return match will be played between the two teams here Monday.

Stratton Is Due For Mound Call In Aggie Opener

Frogs Aim at Higher Notch After 9-12 Rice Defeat.

Frogs Tie for 4th

Cadets to Be Here Today and Tomorrow; Games Start at 3 o'Clock.

With their sights on higher position in conference race the Horned Frog nine will tangle with the Texas Aggies at 3 p. m. today and tomorrow.

Mann Stratton will probably get the starting call against the Cadets today. The fray will take place on the Purple diamond.

The Frogs climbed into a tie for fourth place with the Rice Owls by trouncing them 12 to 9 in a slugfest here yesterday.

It was the Purple's second victory in their last three starts. They took their opener with the Southern Methodists 2 to 1 last Friday in Dallas but dropped Saturday's conflict 10 to 8.

Making their initial debut on their home diamond, the Frogs made 11 hits count for 12 runs, while the Owls could score only 9 runs on 12 hits. The lead saw-sawed back and forth throughout the game until the Purple came to bat in the eighth. Then the Purple batsmen touched Fred Mecher's offerings for four runs and three hits, two f them doubles.

Both Teams Field Raggedly.

Horace Carswell opened the inning with his first hit of the season, stole second, and came home when Frank Steen booted Montgomery's ground ball.

Both teams fielded raggedly while the Owls making nine bobbles while the Frogs made four. Steen made five errors on nine chances, but led the Rice hitters with three hits.

Baugh paced the Purple batters with three hits, including a double and a triple. John Frankie of Rice knocked a home run in the fourth with nobody on.

Other extra base knocks included a double by L. D. Meyer and triples by Dave O'Brien, Tynes and Steen.

The Purple nine almost turned the bases into a track oval stealing eight bases. O'Brien led the way with three swiped bags.

Aubrey Linne went the route to get credit for his second victory, but again he was his own worst enemy. He walked eight men but also whiffed an equal number.

Ponies Annex 10-to-8 Victory.

Linne won his first victory against the Mustangs last Friday when he limited them to six hits and one run. His mates scored two runs on seven hits. He gave only five passes then.

Will Walls led the hitting parade in the initial Mustang game with two hits, while Baugh and Meyer scored the tallies. Meyer's double was the only Purple extra base knock.

The combined efforts of the Frogs other three pitchers, Paul Tankersley, Ed Phillips and Mann Stratton, were not enough to stop the Ponies Saturday. The 10-to-8 victory was their first of the season.

The Frogs scored their 8 runs on 5 hits, while the Ponies made 10 hits for their 10 tallies. Where the Mustangs really went crazy was on the bases, stealing 11 bags.

Tankersley and "Ball 4" Phillips will be in reserve should Stratton fail to go the route. Linne will start against the Cadets in Saturday's engagement.

The Farmers are in a tie for second with the Baylor Bears, but a double victory by the Frogs would mean a climb into third place tie with the Cadets. The Purple nine lost their College Station engagement with the Farmers.

Tom Keplinger was elected to captain the freshman team for the remainder of the year after the games played with the varsity last week.

Players who will make the trip are: Tom Swiley, Pete Davis, Guy Kelly, Ben Abney and Capt. Keplinger.

A return match will be played between the two teams here Monday.

Netters Win 2, Go South Today

To Meet Baylor This Afternoon, Texas Tomorrow.

A week's work is about ended for the Horned Frog netters. They go south today to meet Baylor in Waco, and tomorrow they play Texas in Austin.

So far it has been a fairly successful week with the Purple racketeers winning two of their three matches. They downed the Commerce Teachers 4 to 2 Tuesday and Trinity 5 to 1 yesterday.

Their only loss was to the Mustangs in Dallas Wednesday, 4 to 2. The other two matches were on the home courts.

Don McLeland and Jim Young have had a perfect week winning all their singles matches thus far.

Results against Commerce were: McLeland over P. G. Murray 6-2, 6-3, 6-2; Young walloped W. Blalock 6-1, 6-1; Waller Moody over Graham 6-2, 6-8, 6-4; Bobby Bass lost to Robert Hayes and Clyde Gibbs to Bob Arnold, 6-1, 6-2; and in doubles McLeland and Bass beat Arnold and Murray 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 and the other doubles match was called off because of rain.

In winning their other victory McLeland beat Bill Everhart 6-1, 6-1; Young won from George Collins 2-6, 7-5, 6-0; Moody over Geo. Carter 6-2, 6-1; and McLeland and Moody beat Everhart and Collins 6-4, 8-6; and Young and Bass Beat C. Ferris and Bill McCurdy 6-2, 7-5. The only Frog set-back was registered when Farris won 6-3, 6-4.

McLeland beat Capt. Joe Mansfield of the Mustangs Wednesday 6-1, 3-6, 6-2 and Young defeated Dick Lee 6-3, 3-6, 6-4 for the lone Frog victory.

Other scores were: Bud Bogardus vs. Bass, 6-2, 7-5; Smith Dodson vs. Moody, 6-1, 6-3; and Bogardus and Mansfield vs. McLeland and Young; 9-7, 6-4; and Lee and Dodson vs. Bass and Moody, 6-3, 1-6, 7-5.

Artist, Preacher Musician, Actor, Poet—Is Haley!

"My daddy used to be a magician, and he pulled me out of a hat—that's why I'm so little," explains Eugene Haley as he flits from cellar to garret on his multitudinous errands.

One of the most active and exuberant of people, Haley, the sophomore from Colorado, Texas, belongs to six clubs and holds offices in three.

He is president of The Brushes, vice-president of the Meliorists, publicity chairman of the Y. M. C. A. and member of the Poetry Club, B. C. B. Club and Timothy Club.

Poet, artist, musician, actor, preacher—all rolled into one—that's Gene. Most of all he enjoys design decorations for parties, banquets, etc. He was the gentleman responsible for the stained glass window effects in the parlors of Jarvis Hall during the Christmas season.

Eugene adds to the beauty of his own poetry with original illustrations. He illustrated the volume of poetry,

Frosh Linksmen Beat Varsity Men

Bob Sikes and Benton Beasley, freshmen, defeated the varsity No. 1 doubles team, McBride and Jordan, by the score of 2 and 1, in a 9-hole match, Wednesday afternoon.

The intramural champion and Beasley bagged four birdies between them to take the varsity lettermen into camp.

The exact personnel of the frosh squad has not yet been determined, but it appears that Ed Cobb and Gilbert Jackson will compose the team with Sikes and Beasley.

Mrs. Brooks has studied with Frank Renard of Dallas, Hans Rischard of the Cincinnati College of Music, Sylvio Sciotti of the Chicago College of Music, and Marshall Bidwell, dean of music at the Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh.

She graduated from Kidd-Key Conservatory in Sherman and formerly taught there.

"Silver Century," by Leola Christie Barney, published last summer, and now being sold in England under the approval of the Royal Poetry Society.

As to his early life, Eugene says that he spent his youth being sawed in two, made to float in the air, and pulled out of hats by his magician father in his travels from Indiana to California.

Trackmen Meet Baylor and SMU Will Be Without Clifford in Dallas Tomorrow.

The Frog track and field team, minus the services of their ace hurdler and broad jumper, Pat Clifford, will go to Dallas tomorrow in an effort to capture a triangular meet with Baylor and S. M. U.

The T. C. U. team outpointed both the Bears and Mustangs in a quadrangular meet in Dallas week before last, placing second to the Texas Longhorns. Clifford did not participate in this meet either.

Baylor, braced by the services of Lloyd Russell and other baseball players, won over the Frogs in a dual meet here Tuesday, 7 1/2 to 5 1/2 points.

Captain Glenn "Donkey" Roberts, who was supposed to be on the sidelines with an infected foot, showed up in track attire and led his teammates in number of points scored.

Roberts took first place in both the 880 and mile runs, showing an abundance of stamina in running away from his opponents near the finish.

Ward Wilkinson took first place in the javelin with a toss of 188 feet.

Lee Dunivant and Buck Roberson battled it out for first place honors in the pole vault, with Dunivant finally winning by clearing the bar at 11 feet, 6 inches.

Roberson won the Frogs other first place by taking the high jump with 6 feet.

Frosh Track Team To Meet Cubs, Colts

Poss Clark to Take 11 Men to Compete in Dallas Tomorrow.

Coach Poss Clark will take 11 members of his freshman track squad to Dallas tomorrow to compete against the Baylor and S. M. U. frosh. The meet will be held in conjunction with the varsity's.

Vic Cole will enter the high and low hurdle events and the quarter mile; Bob Cook, the weights division and broad-jump; Tom Bredthauer and Bill Chappel the mile event; Marne Sandford the jumps and pole vault; Gail Smith the half-mile and mile jump; Tom Barber, the quarter-mile and the relays; Henry Lee and Earl Clark the dashes; Hugh Handley the relays and 220; and Phil Hurwitz the 100-yard dash.

Frog Golfers to Meet Tech Today, Tomorrow

Will Be After First Victory in Match With Border Champions.

The Frog golfers are after their first victory today and tomorrow when they meet the Texas Tech Matadors, Border Conference champions, at Glen Garden Country Club. All matches are slated for 36 holes, with the doubles today and singles tomorrow.

After being blanked by S. M. U. in their first dual meet this year, the Horned Frogs are expected to come back strong and will be favored to get revenge from the Tech linksmen, who won last year 5-1.

Coach J. W. Jackson of Tech has Jack Carlson, James Douglas, Robert Hale, and Lindsey Telford here with him. Mansen Allen, No. 1 man who was conquered by McBride in a hot match last year, was left in Lubbock, a victim of scarlet fever.

Glenn Stevenson, regular No. 2 player, is also lost to the squad for this meet because of illness.

Freshman Nine Wins Over Two Opponents

Riverside and North Side High Bow to Wog Sluggers in Succession.

The Wog nine came out on top this week in both of its two encounters. Last Friday the Frosh took Riverside High 13 to 12 and then came back yesterday to win over North Side High 17 to 4.

To eke out the victory over Riverside the freshmen scored six runs in the last frame. Bill Bilderback found the opponent's pitching in his liking, smashing out two lengthy home runs over the left fielder's head. Big things are predicted for Bill who is a first sacker.

Yesterday's game was a bit easier for the Wogs. Sixteen hits were collected by Frosh batters among which was a home run by Bob Childers with the bases loaded. Roy Brooks did some fine hurling for the Wogs allowing only four hits and striking out six batters in five innings of play.

Pen Versus Pen Latest Billing On May 7 Meet

'Grudge' Relay Race Between Skiff Staff, Office Workers.

Steno, Scribe to Run

Only Non-Athletes to Compete in Intramural Contest—Entries Close April 30.

The pen versus the pen! That's the latest billing on the Intramural Track and Field Meet May 7.

The secretarial staff of the journalism department this week issued a challenge to the editorial staff of The Skiff for a "grudge" relay race. It was promptly accepted by Editor Walter Pridemore, and has been added to the list of events for the Intramural Meet.

The stenographers' team will be composed of Charlie Graves, secretary, Miss Helen Ruth Verheyden and Bill Haworth, assistant secretaries, and Warren Agree, student publicity assistant.

The only stipulation made by the challengers was that James Matthews, sports scribe, be run against Miss Verheyden. The other members of The Skiff team will probably be Pridemore, Frank Bailey and Paul Ridings.

Prof. Thomas Prouse also announced this week that gold medals would go to the winners of all individual events, along with a medal to the high-point man of the day.

No medals will be awarded in the class relay and the "grudge" relay.

The medals will be given to the champions of the 60, 100, 220 and 440-yard races, the 120-yard low hurdles, the broad jump, high jump and the shot put.

Since the meet is a strictly intramural affair, with all varsity lettermen and frosh numeral winners barred, every non-athlete will have a perfect chance at winning some sports medals.

Entries are now being taken at the Gymnasium, and all must be in by April 30. Any student who is not a varsity letterman or frosh numeral winner may enter as many events as he wishes.

Put On Boots, Spurs; Draw 'Howdy' to Folk-Lore Visitors

By GENEVIEVE PAPINEAU
Get along little dogies, get along, get along!
There will be a round-up on the campus this week-end, a round-up of important writers and musicians of Texas when the Texas Folk-lore Society has its annual meeting Friday and Saturday here.

With a genial "Howdy, Folks," delegates will be welcomed in old time western hospitable style. It isn't often that the students of T. C. U. have the chance to hear and meet so many famous people of Texas at one time in one place.

All the meetings will be open to the public and free except for the dinner which students may also attend but which will be 75 cents per plate.

Informality, sincerity and true western friendliness will be the keynote of all the meetings. The moving spirit of the entire convention will be J. Frank Dobie, one of the outstanding writers of Texas. He combines sound scholarship with cowboy geniality and bravado, and always imparts his own special gusto and verve to any gathering.

Mr. Dobie is a famous teller of tall tales and possesses a special genius for digging up other yarn tellers from out-of-the-way places. He can tell the wildest story with the most solemn face and impressive drawl. This year he is to produce for the visitors at the folk-lore meetings an old "pie-biter" who was once a cook in a western cattle camp.

The meetings are primarily for the purpose of coordinating research in Texas native material and creative work in prose, poetry and music. Literature at its source and the artistic and finished production resulting from the findings in the crude beginnings will all be presented.

So get on your boots and spurs and let's all stampede.

The students will attend in costumes depicting characters of the 18th century. After the dinner which is to consist of similar ingredients as used then, a dance will be held. It Happened Here Loyalty Parade, Glee Club Dance, 'Jitney' Picnic—This Week in Past

After seeing the parade yesterday of anti-war strikers and the campus demonstration of those who place internationalism above nationalism, it is interesting to note that 20 years ago this week a three-mile "loyalty" parade moved through the downtown streets. Huge placards and cheering thousands expressed America's eager military spirit.

Just how times have changed in that span of years may be seen in the fact that "jitneys" (as The Skiff called them) were obtained for an all-day picnic of the "Y's" at Lake Worth this week 22 years ago. The trip, now made in about 15 minutes, was a laborious one over rough roads and took much of the morning. The event was a highlight of the social season.

Twelve years later Baylor rejoiced over obtaining Dean Walter Williams of the school of journalism at the University of Missouri to be chief speaker the closing day of the first Journalism Week ever held in the Southwest. Next week T. C. U. will observe the latest such occasion.

At a Senior Day take-off on a faculty cabinet meeting 10 years ago, Coy Poe, now manager of Pinky Tomlin and in the movie business, was, as director of music, to "gather around him a coterie of musicians and songsters to put over their part of the bill in good style." Poe's flight here to attend the Frontier Centennial received great publicity last summer.

(C. W.) entertained members of the T. C. U. Glee Club with a "Leap Year" dance five years ago. But it was not until last Saturday at the Southwest Journalism Congress that the Denton school girls were allowed to wear formal dress to a dance.

Interest in folk-lore was mounting two years ago this week when members of the Southwest Literature Club and the English faculty went to Dallas for the meeting of the Texas Folk-Lore Society. Dr. Rebecca Smith won the prize for the best folk-saying.

On a Tuesday afternoon two years ago this week "Man Mountain" Paul Hill rolled up 10 points in a track meet against Baylor, carrying off Frogland's high-point honors. Last Tuesday afternoon lanky "Donkey" Roberts piled up the same number of points against the same team to win individual honors.

ALSO TWO YEARS AGO: "Sugar Blues" was the most popular drug store recording; 87 seniors were scheduled to graduate; and Melvin Diggs, student body president, reported "the Council's financial situation is in a bad way!"
