CONGRATS ON PROMOTIONS, TENURE

Promotions for 14 members of the faculty and tenure status for 13 (some the same folks) were approved by the trustees at their Spring meeting on campus Wednesday morning. In each instance, the recognition was richly deserved and the campus joins in saying "congratulations!" to them all.

Named full professors were Jim Dyal (psychology), Malcolm McLean (languages), Alvin Nelson (philosophy), Lorraine Sherley (English), William Watson (chemistry). Advanced to associate professor were Charles Deeter (math), Floyd Durham (economics), Charles Foote and Hoyt Gibson (Business), Alex Hoffman (math and physics). New assistant professors are Jerry Michel (sociology), Burton Patterson (Business), Eileen Rall (English), John Z. Thomas (art).

Tenure was approved for Deeter, Dyal, Durham, McLean and for Edwin Akutowicz (math), Palmer Edwards (physics), Art Ehlmann (geology), Russell Faulkner, Earl Gardner and Neil Hulings (biology), Nevin Neal (history), Keith Odom (English) and Bill Smith (chairman of chemistry).

THREE VETERANS TO RETIRE

About the only sad note to Wednesday's session, aside from the absence of Dr. Sadler, was the announcement that three of our grandest veterans will be retiring. They are Charles and Mirth Sherer (math and history) and Dr. Walther Volbach, chairman of Theatre Arts.

"Prof" and Mrs. Sherer have established a unique record at TCU. Coming to campus in 1928, both have served full-time ever since-- a grand total of 74 years for a husband-wife team. For 32 years, Prof Sherer chaired the Department of Mathematics (until 1962). Dr. Volbach joined the faculty on Jan. 1, 1946, as professor of drama and director of Little Theatre. Over two decades, he has become nationally known for his work in University theatre. Sad we are to lose these outstanding teachers and wish them many happy years to come.

DR. SADLER SENDS GREETINGS

As far as oldtimers could remember, it was only the second time in his 24 years as our chief executive officer that Dr. Sadler missed all (or part) of a Board meeting. He continues to improve steadily--thank goodness--and sent a letter of greeting which was read to the Board. His semi-annual report, almost completed before his illness on Feb. 19, was presented by Executive Vice-Chancellor James Moudy.

Acting on recommendations it contained, the Board approved the awarding of seven honorary degrees, expressed approval of the newly organized Assn. of Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas, of which Dr. Sadler is first president and executive committee chairman, expressed appreciation to the Houston Endowment, Inc., for the gift of the Medical Arts Building.

The report also discussed efforts to secure income tax credit for college tuition and fees (Dr. Sadler has been working with a national group on this); our enrollment situation; the rapid and significant growth of our Institute of Behavioral Research. The Chancellor had high praise for Dr. Saul Sells and his fine work over the last seven years.

DORMITORY NAMED FOR MRS. SADLER

In an action which even the Chancellor didn't know about before hand, the Trustees voted to name one of the new women's dorms on Worth Hills "Frances Sadler Hall". Dr. L. C. (Pete) Wright, who heads the committee on naming buildings, made the recommendation. The Board approved with enthusiasm, many recalling the wonderful contributions of Mrs. Sadler to our campus life over the past 24 years. A most fitting honor.

As you'll recall, the other new dorms (as yet undesignated) have been named for the late Clyde Tomlinson and Mrs. Sadie Beckham and Elizabeth Shelburne, long-time deans of women.

SEVEN HONORARY DEGREES

Acting on recommendations from University Council, the Board approved the Honorary LL.D. degree for Gov. John B. Connally, State Highway Engineer Dewitt C. Greer, Pres. Robert E. Naylor of SW Baptist Seminary, Board Chairman John T. Jones, Jr., of Houston Endowment, Inc., and Chancellor Cary Croneis of Rice U. The D.D. was approved for N. Quentin Grey, minister of First Christian Church here, and Dr. William T. Gibble, old grad now minister of University Christian, Austin.

They will be awarded over the next few months--during Spring and Summer Commencement or at special events on campus, Dr. Moudy pointed out. All of the men to be honored have, of course, made outstanding records in their fields. The recommendation of Mr. Greer, who has given Texas one of the nation's best highway systems, was especially interesting.

RECORD BUDGET FOR 1965-66

After many weeks of hard work (including many a whole weekend), V-C L. C. White for Fiscal Affairs presented a budget of $9,387,306 for the 1965-66 school year. It was, of course, a new record and an increase of $237,000. It compares with our total budget of only $813,000 in 1944-45 and only $2,744,000 in 1954-55. Gives you some idea of the growth of the University which has become BIG BUSINESS indeed. As usual, Mr. W. told the Board he "hoped to find the money" and they approved his figgers. Now all he has to do is make good!

One administrative title change was approved. Jewel Carr Potter was named "Assistant Director of Admissions" which is more in keeping with her duties.

Most of the 39 members of the regular Board attended as well as many of the Honorary and Advisory Board (which was greatly expanded at the Fall meeting). At an orientation dinner in SC Tuesday night, arranged by V-C Earl Waldrop, Dr. Moudy discussed the University's academic program. Everyone seemed to enjoy the session.

Oooooooooo

"THANK YOU" FROM THE SADLERS

At the request of Mrs. Sadler, we're happy to pass along to the many, many folks on campus who called, sent notes, flowers, cards and otherwise expressed their concern during the Chancellor's illness a heart-felt "thank you!" All were deeply appreciated. Incidentally, Lillian McDonald who held the fort so nobly in the Chancellor's office during the crisis, is working through what seems to be a bushel basket of messages--sending "thank you" notes all over the country.

CHANCELLOR GOES HOME--VISITORS LIMITED

To the delight of everyone, Dr. Sadler's physicians let him go home from the hospital Monday. Dr. Judge Lyle reported that his recovery continued to be "excellent". As might be suspected, however, the Chancellor is still weak and until further announcement visitors will be sharply limited.

In fact, only one or two "conferences" a day will be allowed and one will be with Miss McDonald, his secretary. For the other, Dr. Sadler will invite certain members of the staff to come by for brief discussions of certain matters of particular importance. Everyone can help by observing these "rules" for the next few weeks.

UNIVERSITY COUNCIL TAKES ACTION

At the February meeting of University Council recently a number of matters that have been "pending" were cleared. Acting on a request of Student Congress, it was voted to ask a student representative to sit in on all future sessions of the Calendar Committee headed by Calvin Cumbie. Everyone agreed that we should maintain "five-year calendars", updating each year so that basic dates will be known five years ahead. In other actions, the Council clarified the Catalog statements on general graduation requirements, the status of ROTC "drills" in meeting the P. E. requirement under the new two-year programs, the situation on Advanced Placement Exams. After long discussion, the Council voted unanimously on the Honorary Degree recommendations which were submitted to the Trustees today.

SAMUEL GUY INMAN DIES

One of our most famous former students, Dr. Samuel Guy Inman, died of a heart attack in Bronxville, N.Y. Feb. 19. Unfortunately, the newspapers didn't give the story much prominence at the time and some friends here didn't learn of his death for several days. Our News Bureau sent out a three-page story last week.

A 110-pound quarterback on TCU's football team of 1898, Dr. Inman was a close friend of the late Dean Colby Hall. Later he became one of the top authorities on Inter-American Affairs, wrote 21 books and hundred of articles. A frequent campus visitor, he donated a number of his books and private papers to the Library (Dr. W. J. Hammond has cataloged more than 800 items). We awarded him the Honorary LL.D. in 1923. The Inman Christian Center in San Antonio is named in his honor. As a former student, he brought much honor to TCU.

BARGAINING-ARBITRATION CONFERENCE

Be reminded of the big Collective Bargaining and Arbitration Conference to be held in Rogers Hall next Monday-Tuesday. Our School of Business is host and Murray Rohman et al have really lined up a top program with some of the nation's top experts as speakers. Tuition is $50 but it is likely that faculty folks wishing to sit in on one or two sessions will be welcome. Looks like an interesting event.

NOTES ON MOST NOTABLE FOLKS

The leaves of absence for FRED CHRISTEN and DAVID GRAHAM for advanced study have been extended thru the next school year, JAMES MOUDY, reports. Fred is working at Syracuse and David at Cornell. Both are doing well.

KARL SNYDER, after a recent trip to Washington, D.C. re the English Institute this Summer, reports he'd forgotten just how bureaucratic bureaucracy can be. He found out but admits he wasn't as confused as some others who attended.

A. MELTON is going around happily telling friends that wife Grace (after a 4-day stay at Scott & White in Temple) has a mild case of diabetes. Know that doesn't sound right but in a way 'tis true. For months, the medics had been unable to find out what was wrong.

Our apologies to JIM WIMSATT for calling him "Watsatt" in the Bulletin recently. A typo error.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS OF NOTE

That was a dirty crack by EARL WALDROP at Faculty luncheon recently when it was announced that JIM MOUDY would read the Chancellor's report to the Board: "Jim's the ONLY vice-chancellor who can READ!"

WARREN AGEE identifies the young people in the foreground of the Library picture on the front of the telephone book. The boy is John W. Stewart, Jr., son of Brite's John, and the girl Mrs. Ken Fulkerson (formerly Tahita Neimeyer) who is working on her M.A. in English and teaching at Eastern Hills high.

W. H. WATSON recently conducted a seminar at SW Medical School in Dallas on "Application of Electron Spin Resonance Techniques to Biological Systems"

C. J. FIRKINS spoke to members of several PTA groups at South Hi Mount recently. He reports that from letters he's receiving, the discussions led by PAUL YOUNG before high school student groups is winning high praise. One recent letter was signed by each student who took part.

WILLIS HEWATT picked up a paper in New Orleans on that recent trip with a story about Dr. Clifton E. Dowell of the Department of Microbiology at Tulane receiving a $12,650 research grant. Dr. Dowell holds B.S. and M.S. from TCU.

JOHN WOLDT spoke and played for a meeting of the Tarrant County Pharmaceutical Auxiliary (druggists' wives) at Colonial CC recently. He rushed back to Ed Landreth to play an afternoon recital with wife Harriet.

HOWARD WIBLE spoke recently to the American Society of Training & Development, served as a field judge of the American Institute of Banking Public Speaking Contest and is set for a CofC tour during Public Schools Week. Sounds like he's managing to keep busy, eh?

NEVIN NEAL discussed "Log Cabin Village" in Forest Park before the N.S. Rotary recently--and actually came up with some donations to support the work. Mighty persuasive.

JEFF HORN, who has been serving as Acting Asst. Dean in Education, has asked to return to fulltime teaching. His request has been granted, effective this Summer, with deep appreciation for his hard work and outstanding spirit. Those who have the responsibilities are deeply grateful for a man like Jeff. He's tops.

BEN STRICKLAND's article, "Kierkegaard and Counseling for Individuality", has been accepted for publication by the Personnel and Guidance Journal. Fine work, Ben.

MALCOLM McLEAN has been invited to take part in the "Book and Author" luncheon here on April 28. His "Description of Nuevo Leon, Mexico (1734-1740)" will be recognized.
